Dear Miss Burch:

Thank you very much for your letter of January 14. Please be assured I was not the least bit put out by anyone's expressing opinions contrary to my own. Indeed, I welcome sincere disagreement because if we all agreed with each other, then we could learn nothing from each other.

I was very impressed by the dedication of your group, which convened in such numbers on a cold Saturday afternoon. You certainly are entitled to much credit for having been able to lead and organize such a meeting. I very much enjoyed meeting with you and only regret that I was not able to stay for additional conversation and tea.

If I can be of any further assistance, please don't fail to call on me.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,
