Brig. Gen. Edward M. Flanagan, Jr., USA
Commandant
United States Army Institute for
Military Assistance
Fort Bragg, North Carolina 28307

Dear General Flanagan:

We have much appreciated the great assistance rendered by your staff in helping us design an increasingly effective program for our VTC students who attend Fort Bragg.

In this connection, we would find it extremely valuable if Col. Harry Jackson could be spared to attend our POLMAR exercise in West Virginia, which runs from January 28 - 31. In this program military and civilian students are assigned roles on either the GVN or VC/NVA sides, and all seem to agree that they learn a great deal about the realities of work in Viet-Nam from this exercise. Subject to your agreement, we will send invitational travel orders to Col. Jackson, whose observation of and participation in our program will not only be of use to us, but might also prove useful to him in the instructional program at Fort Bragg.

Hoping that the foregoing meets with your approval, and again expressing our appreciation for your great help, I am

Sincerely,

151
