Dear Dr. Hiller:

Thank you for your letter of November 10.

In all the confusion, I was by no means able to remember the names of some of the people who came to see my property last Saturday. I would be most interested in getting this information, particularly with respect to people from West Virginia who might want to come back and visit my place again. Some of them appeared to be expert in things of interest to me also, such as trees, geology and the like. If you think it is appropriate, please let me have their names and office addresses.

In any case, it was a great pleasure to welcome you to the prettiest place in West Virginia!

Sincerely,

Ogden Williams
