REMARKS OR ADDITIONAL ROUTING

Following your telephone comment the other day, I asked my folks to check out this matter. The answer is less explicit, perhaps, than one might like, but I am very confident, based on my own observations, as to the motivation and dedication of the District course staff. They run a very tight, efficient and hard-working shop.

As one recent example, please look at the second attachment, which was entirely self-generated within the DC course.
