Mr. Ogden Williams
Special Assistant to the Coordinator
Bureau for Supporting Assistance
Agency for International Development
Department of State
Washington, D. C. 20523

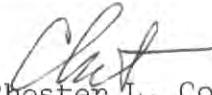

Dear Mr. Williams:

(Pardon the formality, but I am responding to what you started with—"Dr. Cooper.")

Thanks very much for your very interesting and constructive piece about "Lessons Learned." I wish that we had had it many months ago when we were drafting our report. We have literally just finished our effort, and as soon as copies are available for distribution we will make sure that you receive a set.

I will be leaving IDA until late next autumn, and in my absence Joe Yager, who will take over the Division, or Larry Legere, who will act as his deputy and who was involved in the Vietnam Project, will get in touch with you about some ideas for some further work in this area.

Fond regards,

Chester L. Cooper
Director
