Dear Med:

I have been out of town and only recently received your letter concerning Roger. I had heard some months ago that his condition had greatly improved and that he was out of danger but now I believe that perhaps this is not so. Naturally I am deeply saddened. I am no doctor, and can add nothing to your analysis of Roger's condition based on all the tests and treatments he has received. The check I enclose is obviously only a gesture to indicate my concern and great sympathy for Roger and his family. I hope you will keep me posted on Roger's condition. He did an outstanding job in Vietnam and made a host of friends. I mentioned receiving your letter to Bob Zimmerman this morning and Bob said he also wanted to write to you. I am giving him your address. I also have been in touch with Coll Bohannan, who has corresponded with me, and with Ed Lansdale concerning Roger's situation. It is possible that I might be making a trip to that area within the next few months although nothing is certain as yet, but if I do I will certainly call on you and hope to see Roger too if he is receiving visitors.

Please extend my warmest regards to Roger and express my admiration for his great courage, and keep me posted.

With best wishes.

Sincerely,

Ogden Williams
