

1. U.S. v. Stahlhutberg v. Cook ; 336 U.S. 210 (1949)

2. Jurisdiction ends on the delivery of a valid discharge certificate, or, in the case of a reservist, on the delivery of orders which relieve him from active duty.

U.S. v. Brown 31 CMR 279 (62)

.. The orders relieving him from active duty were considered analogous to the discharge certificate

U.S. v. Griffin, 32 CMR 213 (62)

II b 11 CMR

Questions of :

- i. Status as used in cases
- ii. Provision under re-enlistment

635-200 April 8, 1959

iii. Separation from the service by way of discharge requires issuance of competent orders directing the discharge and "delivery ... of the discharge certificate or other valid notice" to the person discharged of the termination of his military status.

U.S. v. Scott, 29 CMR 462

U.S. v. Brown, 31 CMR 275

1. Maroney, Sgt.

A. never knew of illegal order

b. Medina, was a strict but good C.O.

c. prone to chew people out

d. Question of strange mission:

A. demolition
experts with them
1st time had no

accompaniment

e. Order to search & destroy

f. told U.C. & Suspects

only - no mention

w/ & children -

g. Medina told them
after he was briefed.