

Ok, folks, just trying to do my part for VetSpeak... but I am nervous about this one.

I just got a call, and agreed to be a part of an hour long TV show, "The Heartland with John Kasich" on FOX News (Saturday, April 22, 2005, 8:00 PM Eastern, 7:00 PM Central).

Kasich

I am anxious because I know how FOX News is, but I think we have to be willing to go there, if we are going to make a difference.

It will be live from 8:00-9:00 PM Eastern Time, this Saturday (7:00-8:00 PM Central).

Michael Smith

A not-so-Swift person, Steve Gardner, will be on the same show. He is the only not-so-Swift liar on John Kerry's boat that did not support Kerry. He has also been caught in a lot of double-talk about John's military service and metals - a real Minister of Misinformation.

I expressed caution about Fox News, saying that I own two copies of "OutFoxed", and am worried about them. I asked if O'Reilly would be part of it, and was assured that O'Reilly would not participate, and that it will be unedited, live. I was assured that Kasich would not have a shouting match.

We don't have cable so I have never seen Heartland, and am not familiar with John Kasich. If anyone can give me any advice or cautions about what to expect and how Heartland works, I would appreciate it.

So here we go, in to the breach - the belly of the monster - as the Windbinder and Che say.

Peace, Terry
