

Me too!

SAIGON.— U.S. Army Capt. Darryl Henley (Piedmont, Calif.) assistant registrar at the 1st Logistical Command's 3d Field Hospital uses his pen to show hole number two in the helmet of PFC Charles M. Dawson (Bishop, Calif.) a demolitions specialist with the 1st Infantry Division's 28th Infantry. The round which caused a slight gasp in the soldier's scalp, marked the second time the enemy has zeroed in on the lucky infantryman. The first time a bullet pierced his steel «pot» and just ran out of energy racing around the helmet's interior. Dawson wasn't injured in the one first incident. The 21-year-old member of the Big Red One only commented «I hope I don't have to test my luck a third time.»

U.S. ARMY photo