Dear Don,

I found your name and address in a brochure from Dave Grieger. I'm looking for Vietnam vets. I don't really know if that's you or not but this will only take a minute of your time. About 9 months ago I wrote a letter to anyone who served in Vietnam. It has been published in various places, mostly here in Texas. The response of the vets is what keeps me looking for other Vietnam veterans.

I realize the letter ~~is~~ beginning to be outdated but I have been encouraged by many vets to keep going because they tell me that many other Vietnam vets need to see this letter. What I am really looking for is newsletters and magazines that will publish the letter. It saves me a fortune on postage and it reaches more people. When I started this I didn't know how hard it would be to find Vietnam vets and I didn't really know where to look. I'm very new at this.

I'm hoping that you have a newsletter and vets who will appreciate what I wrote. If so, please consider this letter (enclosed) for publication. If you don't publish this sort of thing, perhaps you know someone who does. Anything you do to help send it along will be greatly appreciated.

This summer I got involved in a POW/MIA support group. I wonder if you could put me in touch with a POW/MIA group in your area? All I need is an address. God bless you.

Sincerely,

Julie Weaver

PS. Should you decide to publish the letter, maybe I could talk you into sending me a copy for my scrapbook.
