

9 November 1990

Mr. Don Thompson

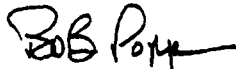

Dear Don,

Thanks for your comments on my letter of 22 October 1990. It appears that the war in Vietnam is becoming more and more popular. I would like to get started on preparing an outline of the project as well as a proposal for a publisher. In this regard, I would like you to send me all the historical documentation that you have. I will have it duplicated at my expense and return the original to you.

There is no problem if more than one author writes a book on the same subject. Usually each writer has a different point of view. The main thing is that the story is told. Perhaps the more authors who tell the story, the more the exploits of HA(L)-3 will be popularly recognized.

I am still awaiting a reply from Jim Walker but expect it soon. Thanks for your assistance to date. I look forward to getting the material.

Sincerely,
