I have recently become aware of your interest in aircraft/aviation. In this context, I wish to take this opportunity to invite you to join the ranks of the American Aviation Historical Society, (AAHS), a worldwide confraternity of aero historians dedicated to the documentation and preservation of our aviation heritage.

I have been associated with the AAHS for many years and I can positively say that membership in the society can be a rewarding experience. As a minimum, your membership provides you with our quarterly Newsletter and Journal which make excellent reading. The Journal is a noteworthy aspect of the Society because it provides the media for the publication of the research efforts of our Society members - note: as a Society member no one is asked or obliged to research anything unless they want to, but every member's loyal support makes it possible for those who do. In addition to being a quality publication and good reading material, the AAHS Journal has become a recognized research source for writers everywhere.

Other membership benefits include the opportunity to research any aspect of American aviation and share the results through publication in the Journal; the opportunity to support those doing research with photos and data you may have at your disposal; and perhaps the most important for the average member, is the opportunity to interact with the total membership through the "New Member" introductions and free "Wants and Disposal" advertising in our newsletter, and the "News and Comment" section of the Journal. It should be evident that the value of AAHS membership can be whatever you wish to make of it. In addition to the foregoing, the AAHS can be considered a semi-professional organization and is defined by the Internal Revenue Service as a non-profit, tax deductible, educational Society.

I trust that what I have said and the message on the membership form will inspire you to join our confraternity for your satisfaction and the benefit of all.

Sincerely,

Gerald H. Balzer
AAHS
Vice President-Operations

Your Invitation to Join THE AMERICAN AVIATION HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Its Purpose

If you're reading this, you are a potential member of The American Aviation Historical Society. The Society, a group of aviation/space history enthusiasts, is ranked among the top historical associations in the world.

Society members in 40 countries encourage interest in aviation history and bring together enthusiasts to preserve that history.

Membership

Membership is open to anyone with interest in aviation history, aircraft, and the people who flew and maintained them. Membership is on a calendar year basis. Persons joining at any time during the year receive all four issues of the quarterly JOURNAL for that year, plus NEWSLETTERS published after joining.

The JOURNAL

Each JOURNAL contains articles covering the many facets of aviation history. They are illustrated by rare photographs and especially prepared scale drawings. Departments feature letters from members concerning previously published works, aeronautica, and photos.

The JOURNAL stimulates interest, and even controversy, to ensure airing of aviation history.

The NEWSLETTER

The NEWSLETTER brings quarterly news of meetings, reunions, chapter activities and symposia. It provides contact among members, reports business affairs of the Society, and awards. New members are introduced with their address and fields of interest so members may contact those with similar interests. The NEWSLETTER contains free advertising for the exclusive use of members and a new literature section analyzing recent worldwide aviation publications. Another feature covers vintage aircraft, recent museum acquisitions and photographs of restorations and aircraft needing rescue.
