

Danny Devine

May 11, 1993

Don Thompson

Dear Mr. Thompson:

It has been a number of months since I last corresponded with you and sent along some sample materials of my writing. I hope that the lack of response is not an indication of a change of heart in pursuing the story of the Seawolves together, and I wanted to take this opportunity to again make contact with you regarding the project.

If there are any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me at anytime. I look forward to hearing from you.

Danny Devine