

O loving Father, help us in our tour in Vietnam. Teach us how to meet and conquer our daily temptations, our frustrations and our fears. We know we now live in a world of danger—a world of dust and mud—a world of rockets and mortars—and trials come down upon us so suddenly, so swiftly; we are confused and befuddled. So God of the universe, lift us up at these times. Pour out upon us thy mercy and thy loving compassion. May we endure hardness as good soldiers. Amen.
