Dear Family -

It occurred to me that you've never seen a picture of me with one important item, i.e. my hat. If that photo of my father in his campaign hat looks a little wild - this thing should strike you as absolutely absurd. It's completely without shape - In the sun, it looks like it does at the top of top of the page - In the rain, the crown begins to look like a loaf of bread and the brim develops rain gutters.

So far, my career in charge of medevacs is working - although it requires quite a lot of running around and pushing - the latter of which I am not overly fond of. A Lt dropped by last night to ask my OIC just who it was that had been in his office "raising hell" about lack of co-operation. Me, of course. Fortunately, the query was prompted by amusement rather than by irritation.

Beyond that, there's really not much else going on. I love you all.

Rob
