

Friday the 22nd

Dear Rot —

What to write to you now that we are not reading books or books and no one has done anything exciting. I recovered a small chair in the livingroom - made a pillow too - how about that? - not exciting —

I practically sit by the phone in the kitchen waiting to hear you say "Hello, Thom?" — that's exciting to me.

This part of your tour of duty is practically over and last January I wondered how all of us would weather it — But it's almost over —

Please the day when you call home — anytime — even in the middle of the night if necessary -

Did I tell you Tushak's comment on your last picture? — "My goodness!
I didn't realize he was so good looking!" — How that's nice and exciting

Please stay well - How much I love you —
Mom
