Things change fast. It all came at the same time. Food, mail, cokes and orders. Now I have more to do, more to eat and more read than I can. I got your package. Film, koolaid and cookies are great. I passed the cookies around and everybody went wild. We always pass goodies around. I and everybody else have to drink ten cokes each before tomorrow morning. Tomorrow we will make another combat assault (CA). It rained last night and I kept dry. Enjoyed the Plannear and Lubbock newspapers. I had to give one of my men an article 15 for sleeping on guard. (fine). We had been out here for about a week but not any more.

Two men got in a fight on another fire base. One got shot and we lost our beer.

This combat assault should be fun. We go in hot and fast. Thirty nine percent of the time no one is there to fight. So the assault becomes just an air movement. If someone does want to fight I can load down with

TNT, a rifle, a ~~map~~ granade, and most deadly a radio which connects me to all kinds of fire power.

The field is hard but I am ready to get off of this firebase and its sandbag filling.
