arry-

About 25 years ago I heard something about one of the jars being lifted from Xieng Khwang, to Bangkok and Washington. Until we talked a few weeks back I never thought another thing about it.

Today I talked with Bernie Wilder who was in town and he told me what he remembers. According to Bernie, it was lifted out with a sky crane chopper to Udorn. Exactly how it got from there to Bangkok and all the way here is unclear. Seems when he got to asking at the Smithsonian (about 15 years back) Bernie was able to confirm that it was in a Maryland warehouse but he didn't actually see it. Whoever it was at the Smithsonian was very surprised that Bernie knew about it.

I agree, it would be cool to actually uncover the jar, take a photo, etc, get more details and do a story. I forgot to mention it to Ernie Kuhn when I was talking with him last week. He probably has some info too.

Do you remember the person's name who did the negotiations between Langley and the Smithsonian?
