Larry,

Needless to fucking say I have been left here holding the proverbial bag. Everyone along this line, regardless of which government (s) I deal with or Volags or UN etc. etc., all now say Muong Who? I will also never forgive the cocksucking religious organizations as they have not (nor ever did) a fucking thing when the going got rough. I'm a bitter weed but will hang in there to help the monkey folk. Unless things get out of hand I should be able to remain around here for another year or so anyway.

I have a room full of pig farm equipment which I may just save for future relocation--Ha. Just talked with a person that walked past the Nam Y. farm and reports are most of the building are still intact..... La de fucking Da.

I have been beer soaked for numerous days and find it mighty pleasin. Saw Jack Barmentor today, he is working for some do-gooder outfit out of Houston Texas (based in Bangkok.) He wants to know what can be done to help the monkey folk, however there is a mean price tag attached. (As you know I was never in favor they move, but since they did and will continue, as will many Lao to come, there is an unavoidable issue to deal with.)

Mouasu has turned into a mustard seed, and has yet to write any words of wisdom for the Pig Lady. He is like most of our (USG) people only concerned over his own ass and goodies. (As you most likely can assume from above I have have lost faith in most of mankind. Once resettlement issue of Monkey's is determined, I'm stacking my arms and retire on my gold fields north of Butte Mont.)

Larry M is in for a big surprise! He thought as he blew through here that he was cutting a fat hog in the ass and leaving ~~My So~~ My So behind. I saw him in Udorn when he passed through and he was sure she could never get a US visa. Well needless to say she did and then called him up and ~~said~~ said she would be darkening his doors in Indiana. Larry asked her ~~to~~ to come and I believe she left him with the impression she wouldn't. However that is not the impression she has given me here, and therefore if you can contact our old beer drinking buddy, you had better advise him he should take a nice vacation for awhile unless he is prepared to face the fiddler.

Well this is enough for now, sorry to be so late with enclosed letter of recommendation, but if you don't like it, smoke a big red one. Good luck and keep me posted on the haps (you are the only one who has written me.) On your next letter try ~~the~~ using the address I have used herewith.

PEACE

Jimmy
