Hi,

Well I have made it through the first weeks OK and we are getting ready for the arrival of the new IVS'ers.

Last week-end I went to the funeral of the former Ambassador to the U.S. from Laos.

We spent the night at the funeral playing drums & making music or at least noise.

I got home about 7:30 the next morning.

Oh I started to make Ice Cream yesterday only to find out that the beater was broke.

Can you purchase just the beater or do you have to purchase the can too. Please check into it for me & forward it.

Also would you send $\frac{1}{2}$ doz. T-shirts. I thought I had enough, but after checking find could use some.

well I had better close for now & get to work.

Love,

Jany
