[Text] Hanoi, Jan 19 (AFP) — The Vietnamese Communist Party's official organ NHAN DAN has a new editor-in-chief, Ha Dang, sources at the newspaper said Monday.

Mr Dang, an alternative member of the party Central Committee, was previously deputy editor-in-chief.

He replaces Hong Ha, a full member of the Central Committee since December, who is to take charge of coordinating the Central Committee's various services, the sources said.

Mr Ha had been editor-in-chief since May 1982.

NHAN DAN's daily print run is 400,000 copies.
