[Text] The Ministry of Labor, the VGFTU, the Ministry of Public Health and the State Science and Technology Commission held a joint conference on 8 and 9 August to review the labor safety task in 1975 and 1976.

Present were Hoang Quoc Viet, party Central Committee member and VGFTU chairman; ministers and vice ministers of labor and public health; leading cadres of central-level organs and sectors; and more than 200 representatives of offices, services and trade unions in various localities.

The conferees discussed and drew experience from the 2-year implementation of the labor safety task in accordance with the spirit of directives 249/PTT and 224/CPTU of the party Central Committee and the government, and outlined measures for intensifying the labor safety task in the coming years.

Addressing the conference, Comrade Hoang Quoc Viet stressed: Sectors, echelons and cadres responsible for trade unions and the labor safety task in the provinces should prepare forces to assume district-level responsibility for the reorganization of manpower in order to satisfactorily carry out the labor safety task, because it is the district level which implements the methods designed to abolish small-scale production practices in the advance toward large-scale socialist production.

On this occasion, the Ministry of Labor presented certificates of commendation to 38 organs, enterprises, worksites and state farms for their achievements in the labor safety task in 1976.
