On The Air

Pacific Report, heard this Sunday on KTRG at 2 p.m., and KNDI at 6 p.m., travels to Japan, Korea and Hawaii. In Japan, a visit to the crime laboratory at Camp Zama tells of the work done by scientists there and details are explained by ballistics and documents experts. From Korea, Sgt. George Green, HHC, 7th Div., tells about his off-duty avocation when he was stationed on the mainland, stock car racing. Pacific here in Hawaii visits "Exercise Mahola," a realistic training maneuver staged by the U. S. Tripler Army Hospital to test the capabilities of their staff following a major disaster.

The Big Picture, seen on KHVH-TV Sunday at 9 a.m., is part of a two-part film entitled "The Climb to Glory." In the closing days of 1944 the prospects for final victory in Italy appeared to be just around the next frozen hill. Hitler's armies were in full retreat in all areas except one — the mountain peaks of the Gothic line. Three times our troops tried to break through and three times they were beaten back. The story of the fourth attempt is the dramatic subject of this week's Big Picture. It is an account of the U. S. Army's 10th Mountain Division, a division new to combat, made up of young mountain-climbing Americans dedicated to reaching great heights. It is told by the Germans who faced them, by the Italians who saw them and by veterans who actually scaled the Gothic line.

Chaplain's Column

They say it's the sameness about everything in military life that gets you down. Right around the clock and nothing new. Maybe so. No one ever said that the military life was an easy life. The very fact of training means constantly going over things until you get in shape. You don't toughen up sitting on a muscle playing poker or stretched out on a beach lapping up sun.

There's a grind to getting in shape. Take a prize fighter. He does plenty of road work and skipping the rope to get the legs in shape. He punches a bag for hours on end to get a sharp, fast-moving jab and hook. Take any sport and it's the same thing. Training is necessary if a fellow wants to stay in business. So with the soldier. Hours on end of the same thing. It gets you. But it shouldn't get you down. You train to keep alive. To keep breath in the lungs and that old heart pumping means you've got to learn the tricks of the fight business.

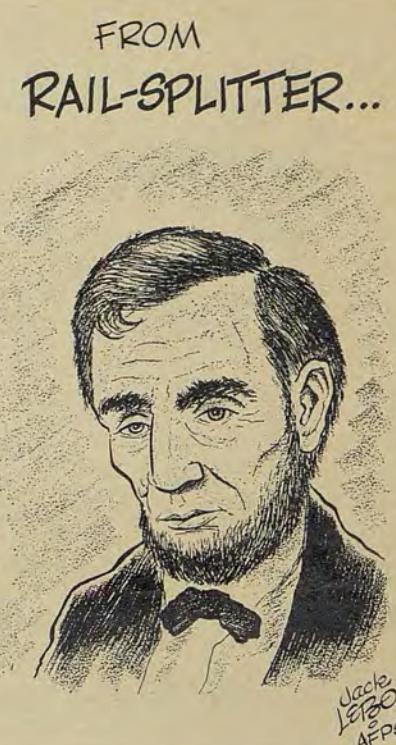

Sameness, monotony. You can't change the life; you can make the most of it. Discipline is something that is never easy. It is something you must learn. Every branch of the service has it. War is a dirty business which demands discipline for your own protection and benefit. You become a cog in a machine that does care. And this same discipline, if you don't try to understand it, will give you lots of unnecessary trouble. So keep in mind the "why" of discipline. It is for your good.

There is a solid meaning behind the phrase, "old soldiers never die." It means that they have learned the trade; they know how to wiggle away from death, from the bullet that just missed. Not all are fortunate enough, even with the best of training, to make the trip back. But the odds prove that the best trained man has the best chance.

Lesson From Lincoln--
Failure Isn't Fatal

Too often, it appears, people lose their courage in facing life because of past failures or fear that they may fail in the future.

One good way to overcome these fears is to remember the story of a man who actually built a lifetime of accomplishment out of individual defeats — Abraham Lincoln.

A run-down of some of the failures that punctuated his life before his election to the Presidency illustrates a remarkable triumph over obstacles which might have been, to a lesser man, insurmountable.

During a five-year period he lost his job, was defeated for the legislature, failed in private business, saw his sweetheart die and suffered a nervous breakdown.

Lincoln survived these setbacks and won election to Congress, only to fail in his attempt to secure renomination for a second term.

But Abe Lincoln had a goal and he stuck to it despite further defeats. Following his term in Congress he was defeated for the Senate in 1854, failed to get the nomination for Vice-President in 1856 and was again beaten for the Senate in 1858.

Finally Lincoln secured the Republican presidential nomination in 1860 and, despite a bitter campaign against him, won the election.

Lincoln's triumph rose from a deep conviction that God had given him a mission to fulfill.

As members of the Armed Forces, we may have suffered setbacks which seemed severe — A change of orders from Hawaii to Korea — A new regulation that made a promotion impossible — An assignment that was taken off the concurrent travel list at the last minute — but few of us will ever meet as many defeats as Lincoln.

Keep the perseverance of Abraham Lincoln in mind when the going gets rough. Recalling his courage could help us make a success out of apparent failure. (AFPS)

"Annual Pay Increase Needed," Says DOD

An annual pay increase for the Armed Forces is the goal of the Department of Defense.

Defense officials announced during Fiscal Year 1965 budget briefings that the Pentagon wants "a pay increase for the military every year to keep military compensation in step with compensation in the private economy and with that of civilian employees of the government."

The annual increase requests would be about the same as this year's requests for a three percent raise for officers and a 2.4 percent increase for enlisted personnel.

This formula takes into consideration that pay increases bring higher retirement costs and is adjusted to take care of the fact that retirement costs are unfunded and non-contributory.

DOD says military retirement

Capt. Oelberg Commands Co. B, 65th Eng.

Capt. Kermit N. Oelberg assumed command of Co. B, 65th Engr. Bn.

Captain Oelberg was assigned to the 125th Sig. Bn. before receiving his RA commission in the Corps of Engineers last Dec.

A graduate of Washington State University, he was commissioned a second lieutenant through the Reserve Officers Training Program (ROTC).

Other assignments have included duty with the 82nd Airborne Div; XVIII Airborne Corps; 50th Sig. Bn., all at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and the 3rd Inf. Div. in Korea.

plans are more generous than comparable plans in private industry or Civil Service.

"Where the military has really lost out," a spokesman said, "is in the slowness with which they have received their pay increases, once every four or five years instead of every couple of years as the Civil Service has."

"Even if you grant that the starting point was right and the end point was right after the enactment of last year's pay increase, we estimate that the average officer lost $14,000 over this period just because he got his increases at such long intervals."

Defense planners say the "average officer" used to obtain the $13,000 figure is a captain or navy lieutenant just promoted in 1949 with six years service at time of promotion. The time span of the study is from 1949 to the present.

DOD is "very anxious" that this should not happen in the future. Of the $200 million proposed for the FY65 military payroll, $143 million will go for the DOD requested military pay increase.

The pay increase is proposed to be effective October 1964. (AFPS)

GI Bill Nears Deadline

Qualified veterans of the Korean Conflict have one year remaining to take advantage of the educational program under the Korean GI Bill.

The deadline for the program is Jan. 31, 1965.

The Honolulu VA regional office stated that on the cutoff date, all benefits will cease.

2nd Brigade Finishes First Phase Of 'Exercise Quick Release'

"Exercise Quick Release" moved into high gear this week in northern Okinawa with the completion of the first phase of the maneuver in progress there.

The 2nd Bde Task Force bivouaced in the tent city at the Yomitan Staging Area and immediately checked out the equipment, ranging from tanks to howitzers, jeeps, trucks and armored personnel carriers.

The Brigade Task Force, which is under the command of Colonel Walter F. Winton Jr., started the second phase of the maneuver Monday when it moved into Okinawa's Northern Training Area to turn back an enemy guerilla force.

Return of the Task Force to central Okinawa for reloading of the Forward Floating Depot and its subsequent return to Subic Bay in the Philippines for the airlift back to Hawaii will constitute the final phase of "Exercise Quick Release."

Experience gained in the exercise, which was designed to test a new concept in mobility, is expected to speed up delivery of combat-ready troops to troubled spots in Southeast Asia and the Pacific to reduce equipment requirements during the initial stage of airlifts.

Co A, 65th, Completes PTA Training

Co. A, 65th Engineers, recently completed extensive construction and roadwork at Pohakuloa Training Area on the

"Big Island."

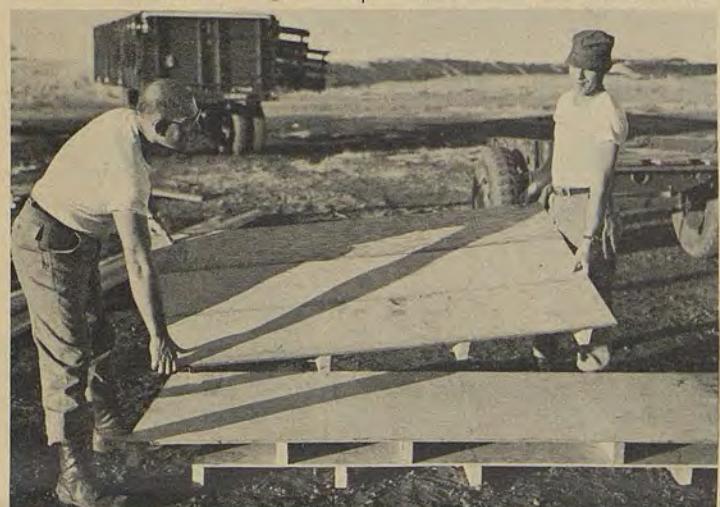

The 1st and 3rd platoons shared in making the improvements, while the 2nd platoon spent the month supporting individual training exercises for the 1st and 2nd Bn.'s of the 1st Bde. They also supported the infantry units in six company Army training tests.

The first platoon was involved in the construction of a tank trail from the LST landing on the windward side of the island Base Camp, 35 miles away.

The third platoon erected five new quonset huts at Base Camp. The 20 by 80 foot units replaced the last of a series of tents the training units were using.

During the Bde FTX the last three days of Jan., the third platoon and equipment section were working on forming, grading, and filling a new tank trail in the immediate training area. Much work was done on existing roadwork, grading and reshaping badly worn trails, according to the 65th Eng. Bn.

Schofield Redmen; Second Place In Youth League

The Schofield Redmen moved to second place in youth league standings over the weekend by trouncing Ft. Ruger 52-34 and then upsetting first place Pearl Harbor 55-45.

In the first game, played Friday night at Ft. Ruger gym, the Redmen grabbed a quick lead and then went all the way without serious molesting.

The big gun for the Schofield cagers was Lawrence Goodrich who racked up 24 points. Louis Williams was good for eight points in the victory.

Against Pearl Harbor the following night, the Redmen let it be known they are making a bid for the jr. title as they set a red hot pace that carried them to a 10 point advantage.

Goodrich and Henry Pouncil dunked 16 and 14 points respectively for the Redmen's cause. Louis Williams followed with 13.

Outstanding defensive player for both games was Redmen Garry Smith.

Past Basketball Season

The rhythmic swish of basketballs, Hawaiian Armed Service variety, is over until 1965.

For the Army Rangers, it was somewhat of a disappointing season as far as the won-lost record indicated and could have been worse had it not been for the Naval Air quintet at whose expense came most of the Army wins.

However, considering it was the first year that Army got its feet wet in competition against the likes of SubPac (28-2) and the Hawaii Marines (21-9), they held their own against the other teams making up the seven-team league.

SubPac, if you recall, won the Interservice crown last year and went on to cop the All-Navy finals and seem a sure thing to repeat this year.

Army came on strong the latter part of the season, winning 10 of their last 13 starts.

Led by scoring threats Chuck Caldwell, Don Smith, Al Kormondy and Jim Thomas, we feel that although the Rangers' dignity dropped a bit at times, they soon earned the reputation of a team not to be taken lightly.

And certainly, the experience gained will greatly add to the Division cage season which starts in April.

Baseball To Come

To Army baseball - While it's hard to predict the outcome of this year's competition from 1963's results, it's safe to assume that the defending champs, the Hawaii Marines, will be out to retain the title.

Army finished second to the 'Necks with a 15-9 record, four games off the pace.

Top stickmen for the Army nine last year were catcher John Casprowitz and Willie Martin, both hitting over the .300 mark.

Martin has since rotated but "Big John" is still booming with bat and led the hitters with a .472 for the first half of the Division league. Close behind was teammate Collins with a .462 mark.

The top 11 batters were swinging the club at a .333 pace or better and this is a fair indication of the team that Army is capable of fielding.

Another thing going for the Army team this year will be the lack of competition against the Division league that has been so unacceptable over the past seasons, when both the Army team and the 25th's league felt the pinch.

Army Wrestling Team

The Army Area Wrestling team flexes its muscles tomorrow at the Central YMCA's novice meet.

Without much at stake, it's strictly a warmup for interservice competition scheduled for later this month and the state AAU championships and an all important shot at the '64 Olympic trials.

With several returnees from last year's Interservice Championship team, Army wrestling fans have every right to expect them to repeat this year.

Lorne Nordahl, Fred Zamiska, Dave Karpenske and Fred Doyle, all of whom went to the Nationals last year, are rated high in wrestling circles throughout the Islands. From here, although early in the season, nothing short of the old bug-a-boo, upsets, seems to stand in the way of Army and a clear shot at the state and interservice championships.

Division Artillery Smothers Troops, 11-2

Pitchers' Duel Until Seventh Frame

Division Artillery exploded for 10 runs in the seventh and eighth innings to bury Troops, 11-2, and move to within one game of the league leading 3rd Bde Broncos.

Arty's Shelton Johnson and Troop's Ted Hendry were locked up in a 1-1 duel when the eventual winners scored four times in the seventh, then broke the game wide open with six big ones in the eighth.

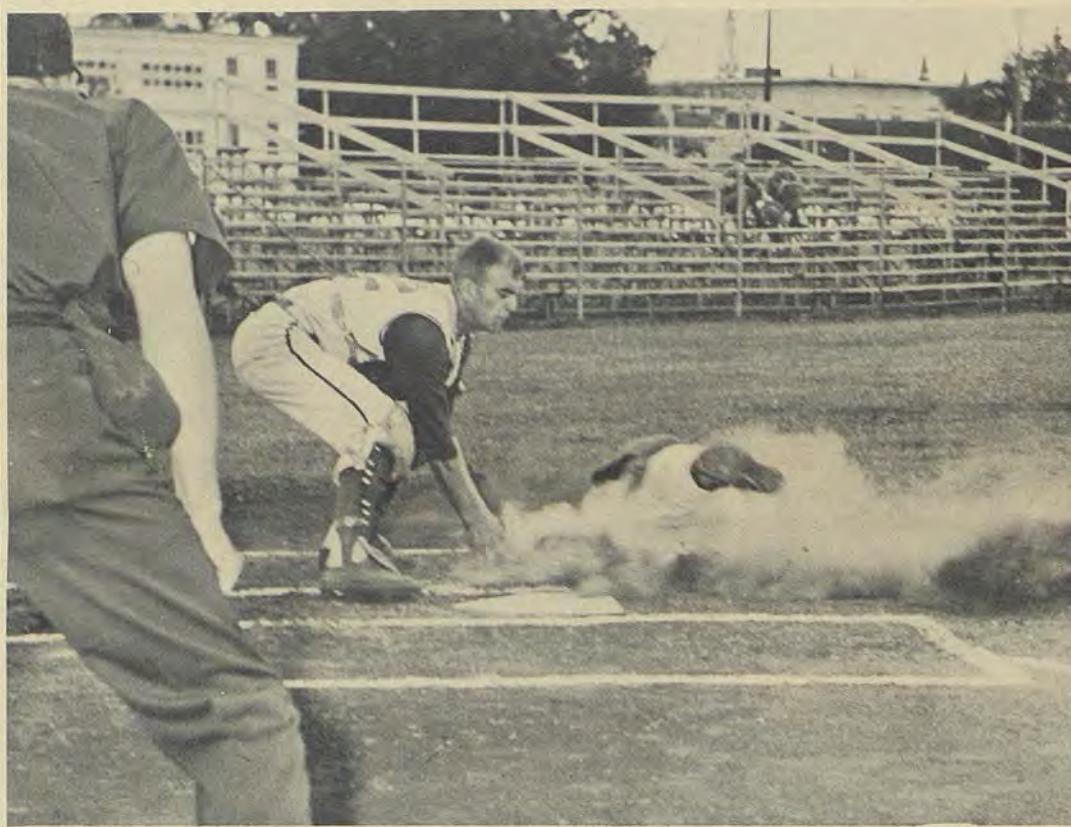

Hendry (2-5) had yielded only four hits and one run when, with two out and a runner at first, he walked Johnson. Fred Beavers then singled home the tie-breaking run and third-baseman Tom Glover followed with another one-baser to make the score 3-1. The inning's final runs came across on shortstop James Chandler's miscue.

Johnson's two-run triple and Kennis Davis' two-run home-run highlighted D/A's six-run eighth.

Johnson (3-2) scattered eight hits, struck out 14 and walked only two, while Hendry yielded all 11 D/A runs and 13 hits before leaving with two out in the eighth. He fanned 10 and issued two bases on balls.

Glover, who finished third in the first half's batting race with a .388 mark, paced D/A's attack with four hits in five tries. He also drove in three runs while scoring two.

Sharks Host Swim Meet

The Open-Invitational Age Group Swim Meet, sponsored by the Schofield Shark Swim Club, will kick off at Richardson Pool tomorrow at 8:30 a.m.

Participating in the event will be the Schofield Sharks, Wheeler Swim Club, Dolphin Swim Club, Town Swim Club, Nuuanu YMCA, YMCA Swim Club, and Naval Air Aquatic Club.

The 24-event meet will feature freestyle, breaststroke, backstroke, individual medley and butterfly competition in age groups to 17 years.

There will be no time trials and the best times in each event will win. The first six place winners will be awarded ribbons.

Current AAU swimming rules and the Hawaiian State Age Group Swimming Program will govern the meet.

Ed Hunter Hurls Titans To 9-5 Win

The 1st Bde Titans took an early 6-0 lead, then held off a late S/C surge to register a 9-5 win last Thursday.

S/C had knocked the eventual winning pitcher, Ed Hunter, from the box with two in the seventh and three more in the eighth to cut the 1st Bde's lead to 6-5. But in the last of the eighth Woodrow Freidank unloaded a two-run triple to increase the Titans' lead to 8-5. He then scored on an error and relief pitcher John Robinson closed the door on S/C in the ninth frame.

Hunter hurled 7 2/3 innings, yielding all five runs and eight hits, to gain credit for the win. He struck out five while issuing only two bases on balls. Richard D'Ambrosio gave up six runs in six innings to take the loss.

Freidank paced the 1st Bde at the plate, driving in three runs on a single and his eighth inning triple. Catcher Cravon Bell singled twice and drove in three for Support Command.

Miura Is DA Coach-Of-Year - Again

Take a man, give him a 5-6 frame and 127 pounds. Put him in a short-sleeved khaki uniform, a pair of GI shoes and distinguish him with five stripes on each sleeve. Drop a twinkle in each eye and a smile on his suntan face. Add a Santa Claus personality, a character that stands out like a rock in a desert—and you have SFC Kenneth S. Miura, USARHAW Sports NCOIC and 1964 Boxing "Coach-of-the-Year."

A veteran of almost 20 years, Sergeant Miura is a man with a purpose—and a goal. People are his life, especially sports people.

In his 11 years of promoting the Army sports program and winning the coveted DA "Coach of the Year" award eight times, Sergeant Miura continues to possess the same humility he had as a private marching off to war with the 442nd Inf. Regt. in 1944. But underneath a checked pride beams a furnace of confidence that guides his efficiency with the precision of a surgeon.

Sergeant Miura first won the DA award in 1948 and repeated the following year. While working with USARPAC Special Services (1953-55) he was selected to the coveted position three times. This year marks the third consecutive year that he has been selected to represent the Army as coach of the year.

Next month the veteran sports sergeant leaves for Korea to coach 25th Division boxers in the USARPAC Boxing Tournaments at the Shea Field House at Ascom City, March. 19-21. The winners will compete in the All-Army eliminations at Ft. Hood, Tex. in April, with Sergeant Miura handling the coaching chores.

Following the eliminations, Miura will coach the Army team in the interservice matches at Camp Lejeune, N. C. and finally at the Olympic trials in New York, where he will vie for selection as U. S. Olympic coach.

Added Depth, Experience Makes Army Grapplers Tougher in '64

The Hawaiian Area Army wrestling team brings up the curtain on the 1964 season when they travel to Central YMCA in Honolulu tomorrow to take part in the Novice Tournament — a "tuneup" for the Military Open at Schofield the following Saturday.

The army squad, coached by 1st Lt. John "Pat" Doyle, won its last seven tournaments in 1963 and sent eight men to the National AAU meet in San Francisco at season's end.

"This season," says the team's OIC, Major Felix Salvador, "we should be stronger due to the fact that we have more depth." "Also, he adds, "many of our men gained valuable experience last year, especially the five returnees who participated in the Nationals."

The five men are Fred Lamb, USAG, who wrestles in the 114-pound class; Jim Zamiska, Co. A, 69th Armor, 125-lbs; John Doyle, Co. A, 25th Avn. Bn., 154-lbs; Lorne Nordahl, Co. B, S&T Bn., 154-lbs; and Dave Karpenske, 25th Admin. Co., 138-lbs.

Lamb has the most impressive record of any member of the team. He was undefeated in State and Inter-service competition last year, taking both the Hawaiian Armed Services Athletic Council (HASAC) freestyle and Greco-Roman championships and the Hawaiian AAU title.

He was the Indiana AAU champ in 1957, and earned a shot in the NCAA Nationals in 1959 and 1960.

Zamiska copped the inter-service freestyle and Greco-Roman titles last year, as well as the Hawaiian AAU, while Doyle, who started late in the season, finished by capturing the state AAU freestyle and

Tomorrow

Central YMCA, Honolulu

The 3rd Bde Broncos virtually locked up the 1964 Division Baseball Crown Saturday when they erupted for 12 hits to down second-place Division Artillery, 11-1.

The victory gave the first-half champs a 5-0 mark, and extended their second-half lead to two full games over Division Artillery.

Phil Moore (4-1), yielded two hits in the first inning and two more in the third, then pitched perfect ball until the ninth when he issued his only walk. He finished with a four-hitter and struck out 11 Cannoneers..

The Broncos gave him all the runs he needed when they blasted losing pitcher Shelton Johnson (3-3) for three runs in the first inning. A walk, singles by Willie Martin and John Casprowitz, and Roosevelt Collins' triple were responsible for the early uprising.

They came right back with two in the second, then knocked Johnson out with another trio in the fourth.

Contributing the most to the 3rd Bde's 12-hit attack were Barclay Fisher, who singled four times in four official at-bats and scored twice, second-baseman Ed McGowan, who collected two singles and also scored a pair, and Richard Gomard, who drove home three runs on a base-clearing double in the fourth.

Center-fielder Fred Beavers accounted for half of Div-Arty's four hits with singles in the first and third innings.

With five games remaining, the Broncos' "magic number" is now four. Any combination of 3rd Bde victories or DivArty losses totaling that number will clinch the title for the first-half champs.

The two teams meet one more time this year—in a night game on February 29.

★Academy Relocated

floor, the classrooms on the second floor, and the administrative section on the first floor.

The move, which started last Friday, was expected to take from six to seven days. Artillerymen from Division Artillery assisted in the moving of lockers, bunks, etc. and S&T Bn. provided the trucks for the operation.

The academy won the "Best Mess Award" for the month of Jan., and during the last meal served in the old buildings (noon, Feb. 7) was presented the plaque by Maj. Gen. Andrew S. Boyle, CG.

The first class at the new site will begin on Friday, Feb. 28.

★Control Tower At Wheeler AFB Opens

Gen. Darnell cut the tape across the steps to the cab, and Maj. Billy C. Hall, USARHAW aviation officer, led the guests' tour of the new facility and its equipment.

The network of transmitters, receivers, consoles, radios and speakers was formally accepted when General Darnell cut a second ribbon, and Col. Paul T. Scott, Deputy Post Commander, Schofield Barracks, then contacted on-duty personnel at the Army's temporary control cab on the ground in front of the tower and by radio ordered them to cease operations there and relinquish control to the new cab.

Among spectators was Robert G. O'Hara, tower supervisor for the Federal Aeronautics Administration at the Honolulu International Airport.

New signal equipment includes two identical communications consoles, doubling traffic handling potentiality, and a meteorological (weather) console, which indicates wind direction and barometric pressures to either controller. In addition, there are seven new transmitters, three UHF, three VHF and one FM. A direction device mounted on the roof is linked electronically with a scope on the communications consoles and reveals the direction from which a radio call is coming, assisting in rescue even when a call for help is cut short by loss of radio contact.

The new control tower will facilitate accomplishment of the mission of the USARHAW Aviation Detachment under the command of Capt. William R. Lynn. Some of the missions of the 31-plane detachment are supporting USARHAW and USARPAC with administrative flights, giving logistical support to the 25th Div., and operating the Army's fields at Wheeler and Pohakuloa.

The tower work, including the installation of permanent and more advanced radio and electronics equipment, represents an improvement consistent with recognized needs for increased safety, visibility and efficiency.

★Graduate

top graduate. This class which began Jan. 3 was the last class to be held at Schofield Barracks as the academy has moved to Helemano Military Reservation and will conduct all future classes there.

Subjects covered in the five-week course include leadership, map reading, tactics, infantry and artillery, and other military subjects.

★Safety

For Safety will also be presented to units which have low injury and accident rates.

Several units are still in the running for the Division's highest safety award.

"Additional units will receive recognition for their safety efforts if each man contributes his share in pushing the injury-accident rate down," says Capt. Ealer.

"Presently the division is below the rate USARPAC expected us to have," he adds. "Continued safe living and working practices will push our rate even lower." "This is a worthwhile goal to strive for not only for the recognition received, but for a healthy, happy life."

week's total (Feb. 3-10) shows a slight increase in participation with 5086 donors contributing for a 22.1 percent average.

The 25th Inf. Div. has made a substantial gain last week in number of donors, jumping from a 6.8 percent for 932 participants to 22.3 percent for 3064 participants.

Although a last minute surge would help to better the overall participation, the drive is expected to fall short of last year's final in which 14068 donors contributed for a 64.5 percent average.
