FROM: Rufus C. Phillips
SUBJECT: VC Election Tactic

1. One VC election boycott tactic reported to me today is that they plan to pick up the ID cards of the population at the last minute. (According to the electoral law each voter must show his ID as well as voter's card, in order to vote.)

2. The obvious countermove is to authorize at the last minute voting upon presentation of the voter's card only. This should be closely held, of course.
