

THE OBSERVER
24 January 1969

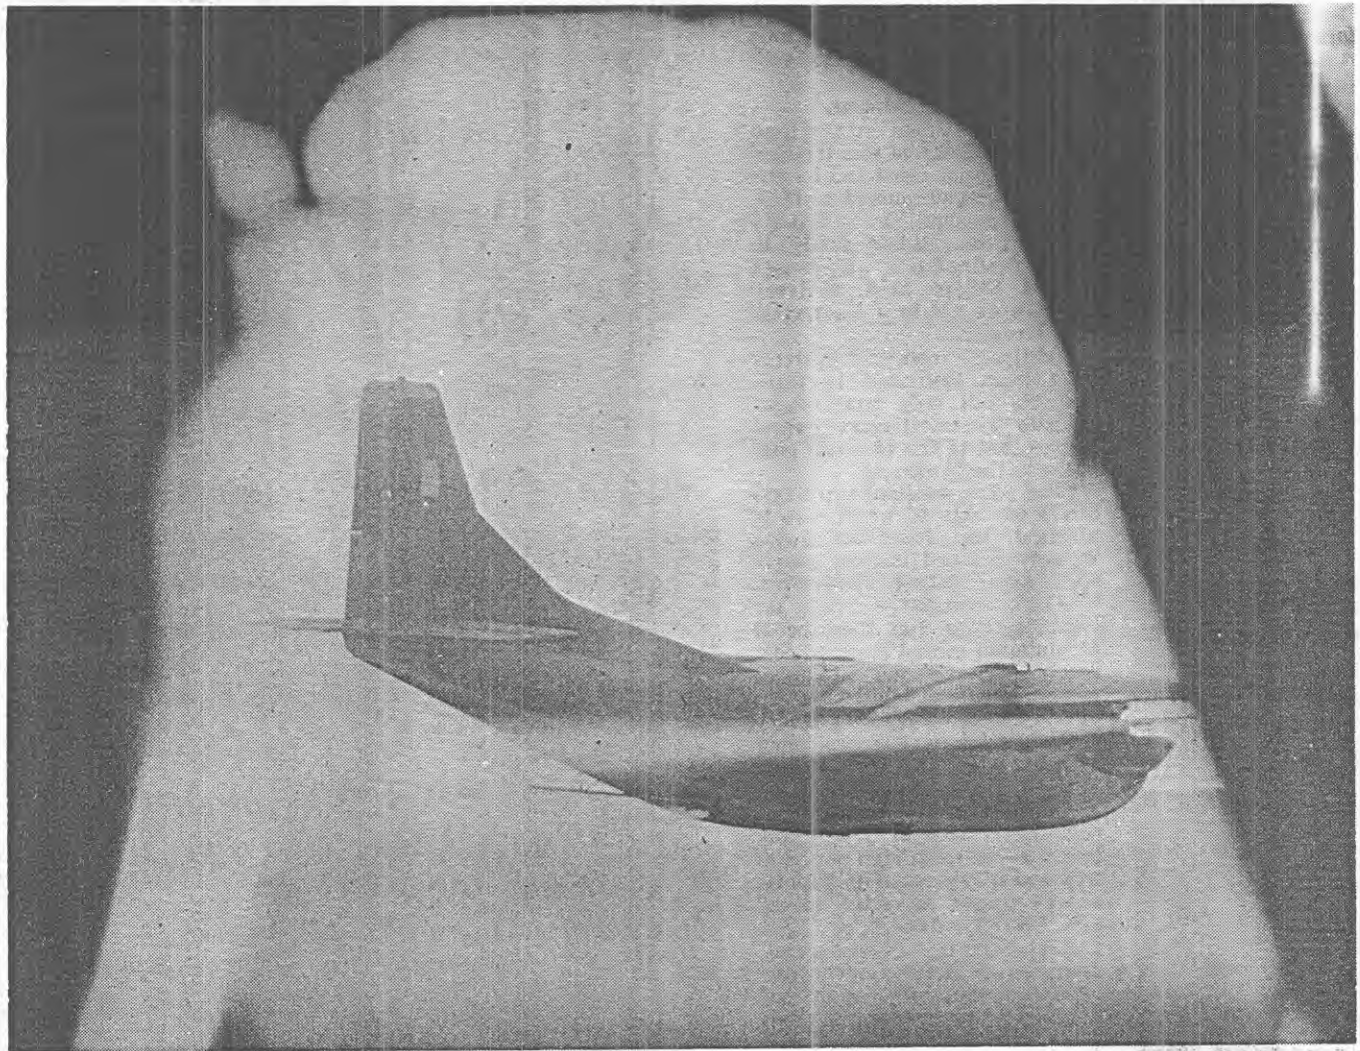

"Cowboys" do some fancy hedge-hopping in their metal horses over suspected 'Injun country' during a heavy suppression mission.

THE OBSERVER
24 January 1969

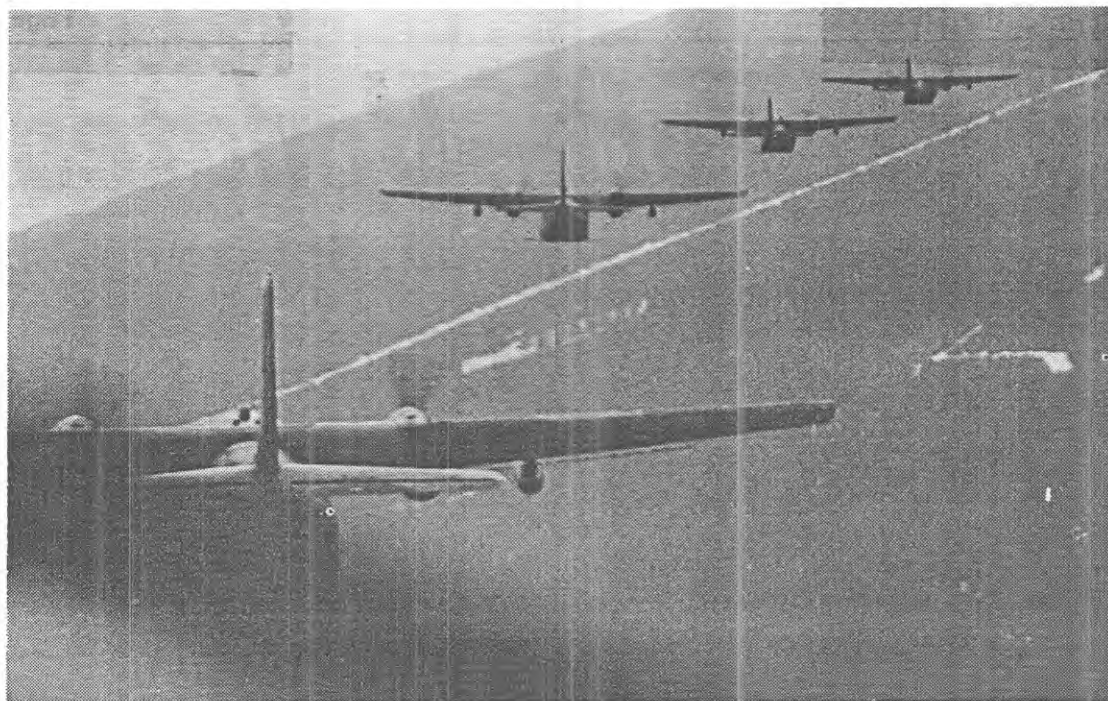

Sgts. Mike Marcelino, Sam Fragua and Robert Rand provide technical maintenance for one of the huge C-123 power plants.

THE OBSERVER
24 January 1969

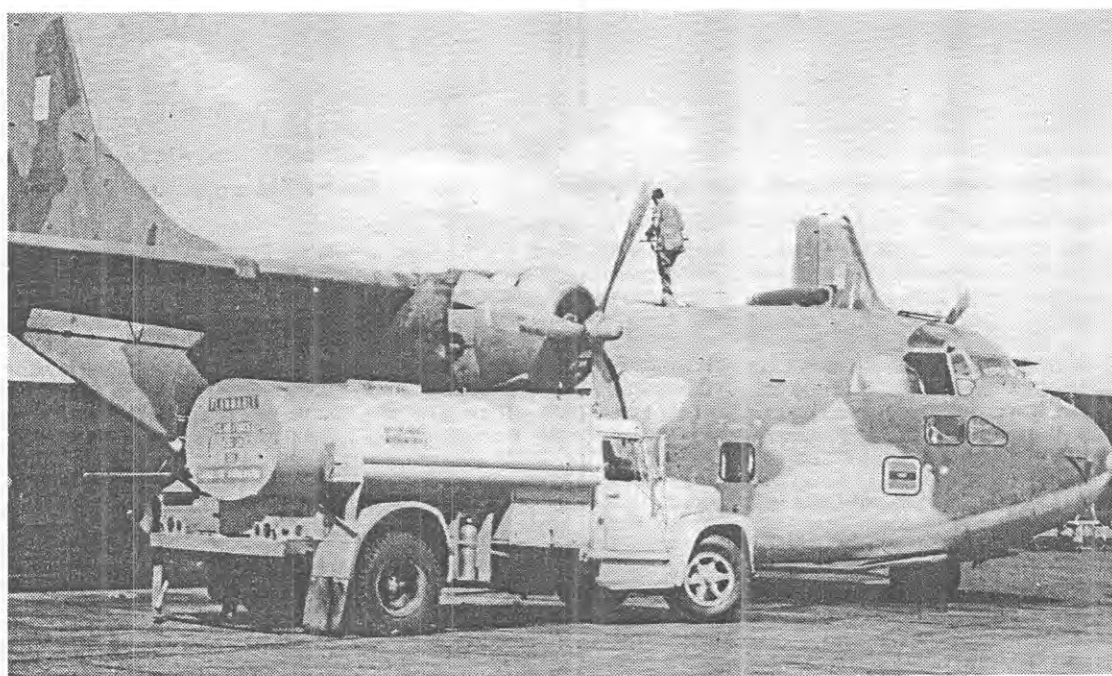

Another Provider, viewed from a cockpit window, sprays the herbicide which will keep 'Charlie' on the move.

THE OBSERVER
24 January 1969

Graceful as eagles, C-123s soar over rendezvous point waiting for F-100 escorts.

Ranch Hands' favorite steed gets supply of oats from modern day aircraft chuck wagon.

THE OBSERVER
24 January 1969

SSgt. Fenton H. Hutchinson, flight engineer, checks Patches after mission.