

A black and white photograph of a globe, a stack of books, and a vase of flowers. The globe is on the left, showing South America and the Atlantic Ocean. In the center, there is a stack of four books. To the right, there is a vase filled with carnations and some long, thin grasses.

Get wisdom, get understanding:
forget it not.

FROM CHAPLAIN WOOD

I once read this startling question, "What on earth are you doing for Heaven's sake?" To honestly answer that question is important. Even more important, what are we doing? This world could be helped if every Christian did do something for Heaven's sake, or for the glory of God. Now how does a person start? Right where he is- doing what he knows to be right. God will direct us from that point on.

Please remember our Bible Study Wednesday night-1930 hours at the Arty Hill Chapel. We shall study the 10th Chapter of Matthew.
