

Day-Time...

BY BOB DAY

Only forty-five more school days until the end of this semester.....it won't be long, stooedents!.....

Yesterday, while glancing out the open window, the inmates of Beta, SAE, and Kappa Sig houses were treated to the true sign of Spring when Kay Hicks, Kappa "sweater girl", and sorority sister Marilyn Douglass rode by on bicyclesthe yellow sweaters and white shorts which the girls were wearing nearly caused a casualty when one of the lads fell half the way out of the window before being saved by his roommate.....(A word to the wise, girls ... bicyling in such an attire is violating a city law, darnit!)

Tonight is your night to howl! Com' on down to Wright Street between Daniel and Armory for one of the greatest colleges jam sessions ever held. On the Chi Omega front porch will be Dick Cisne and his band and the boys are rarin' to let lose with a barrel full of jam n' jive. And, on the Pi Phi front porch Russell Owens and his orchestra are all set to give their all. The majority of the sorority and fraternity houses have given the pledges the night off so as they might attend the fun-fest. Likewise, chapter meetings have been suspended until Tuesday night and everyone is ready for a heap-beeg time. Let's all get out for the rally....you can truck it on down all the way from Daniel to Armory Street....the time is 7:30 p.m. till 10:30 p.m.

MAN of the Week

by
CHET GRAY

During my final week of wandering around the old State U. I happened to come across a little plot of ground called the Engine School. It was on this trip that I came upon our Man of the Week, Bill Wuellner.

Bill is the boy that has been picked to head the Electrical Show to be given April 9, 10, and 11. This show has been hailed as one of the finest of its kind so it is a real honor to be chosen as its head.

All you gals and guys are invited to come and try out the Kissing Tester which is reported to be a real potency tester. So polish up on your old technique and be down at the show to prove how powerful you are.

Some of the other feats of electrical magic will actually amaze all you non-scientist. But its really got to be a regular bang-up show and you wont want to miss it.

On the campus Bill is an easy going guy that would just as soon stop in for a coke like everyone else, but in the class room he's all business and his average sure is a good indicator.

He's a member of Beta Kappa and lives at his own home in Urbana. Bill's a lover of the sports and likes to keep active. He, also, likes to mess around with military and is a member of Pershing Rifal.

He has promised us a real treat and has, also, given us advance notice on a mechanical robot which will put on an act for the huge crowd that is expected to attend.

As for his future Bill said it all depended on his Uncle with the long white beard. However he does hope to land a job with some large company.

Well, gang, there you have my last masterpiece for Illinois Life as the Army and I have a little engagement next week that I can't miss.

WOMAN of the Week

by RUTH MEYER

Today Barbara Smaus, willow Diana of Kappa Alpha Theta, is leaving the campus for her home in Downers Grove, after an enrrollment of one and a half semesters.

On February 1 Barbara had her second date with Dick Knowles, Pi K. A. King. Since the two mutually agreed that it was love at second sight, Barbara accepted his pin. Dick, Dictator of Blue Pencil, will receive his army commission in May. During the interim they will spend weekends visiting each other. Plans for the future are undecided, but there is a great likelihood that they will exchange the pin for a ring.

During her two years at MacMurray Academy for females

Barbara studied art, was Chairman of her Sophomore Class Dance, belonged to an honorary for horseback riders, and was secretary of her Society (an organization which corresponds to the Greek sorority). Registered in our Art School, a daily 8 to 5 grind, she had little time for campus activities, aside from intramural swimming. Consequently, her prominence has grown from her social popularity. In the short while Barbara has been here she has become one of the most well known and publicized coeds on the campus.

Having always been interested in fashions, Barbara has designed the majority of her wardrobe. A forerunner in style she wore a ballet formal and ballerina slippers to a recent dance. The outfit caused so much comment, both pro and con, that it reached the ears of Barbara's instructor in Home Economics costume designing. The instructor gave her opinions in class the next day, ignorant of the fact that Barbara was the owner. However, despite criticism Barbara believes in keeping up with the ever-changing vogue. Draped simple lines in jersey are her specialties.

Good bye, good luck, and we'll be seein' you.
