

MORE or Les BY LES FRAILEY

A word to the wise.....only eight more weeks till the end of the semester, which really means that only forty days remain for the play-school (IAS) and forty-eight for the engine boys.

A hearty congratulation to Tom Javanaugh, Delt clown, who nearly stole the Men's League presentation last week. However, the stellar performance of Warren Fuller and Robert Blum must not be over-looked. The feminine star of course was Betty Hanisee, Delta Gam who at one time possessed the Theta Delt pin of Mr. Blum. By the way...."Boots" Green, Chi Omega, now owns a Theta Delt sweetheart pin from the same man.

Bud Hair, Phi Delt, was a wee-bit oiled Saturday and saw to it that he met his love (?) Idelle Stith, Pi Phi, after the ML show. Complications arose when he found Miss Stith with the third party of the triangle, Glenn Holthaus...exit Bud Hair pronto.....Charlotte Willner, AEPi, and Ira Budwig, PEP, celebrated six months of courtship in great style or'e the week-end.....after seeing lovely Vi Sharkey, Alpha Gam, twirl a baton in ML show it should certainly give the University a good idea on what this school needs for the gridiron besides All-State football players.....Stop in at Cal Shull's Midway for a round of beers and sandwiches before leaving for home this week-end.... Congratulations to Ed Koenig, Sigma Chi, who hung his pin on an out of town attractive one.....Ruth Thompson, Alpha Xi Delta, has broken all relations with Don Ziller, Indee..... Dean Wessel, Delt, is doing his all to make Georgia Moon, Pi Phi, see the light in his eye..... The Kappas admit that they were a bunch of scare-crows this week and didn't do a darn thing !.....

Jane Melin, Chi Omega, has a fond affection for a certain Theta Xi whom she calls "cookie"..... Sam Young, Delt, will entertain a young lady from Florida for the Military Ball...Sam hasn't seen the fair one for seven years.....Flash! Jack MacArthur, DKE, just hung his pin on Emily Tonsberg, AOPi, after many months of cooing...that's swell Jack and Em !.....Jean Tyrell, Chi O's adorable one, accepted the Sigma Chi pin of tall and handsome Jim Roach.....The EE Show March 9,10, 11, promises to be a great affair with Electro and Sparko, a robot and his dog, start off with a formal opening.....Mary Jean Koritz, KKG, returned to the campus Sunday night with a sparkler from Cosby Bernard, Phi Gam who will soon leave for the Canal Zone and army duties.....Ted McKechnie, Sig freshman hung his pin on Betty Allen, Alpha Chi pledge.....Saw Dick Tandler, Phi Psi, enjoying the evening at the Union Ballroom dance Sat. night with his pin girl Pat Settlemire. Pi Phi.....Bud Russell aching for more dates with "Scarlet" O'Hara, AOPi.....

BULL <sup>from</sup> BUD

Despite the snow and bad weather cramping the picnics there was still a lot of fun had around the old campus. People were hanging from the chandelier at both performances of "Lets Get Away" On the first light bulb to your left was Bill Hoff with Bobby Brown, ACPi cutie.....We hear tell the performers had as good a time behind stage as the audience did out front..... Continuing their acts on the tables at Farwell's, they were led by Idol Stith and Kay Hicks who incidently had Gene Vance neatly tucked away in a corner. Why not try Lou Hodge's 608 Club kids always a big party and never a dull moment.

Ruth Jane Hicks, Kappa, and George Hill, Beta lover, celebrated there pin hanging by spending the night..... in the library.....Al Pike, Sigma Chi flash, ended all local romances by hanging his pin on a De-Pauw lovely..... Ruth Mathis, Alpha Gam, took the ATC pin of Jack Hanlon..... The biggest party of the week was held by Ginny Kautz, Jim Littlejohn, and Mat Busey when they spent twelve hours in the 608 Club Saturday afternoon and night..... For excellent dependable service try Bresee Cleaners.....4444....

The newest oddity to spring up on the Illini campus is building model airplanes....Jane Brown, Theta worker, and John Stiefel, SAE helper, spent Friday evening working on a fuselage. ....hmm.....Keep Em Flying kids. Ann Petersen, ACPi, has moved her affections to John Gainer, Phi Sig, thus turning wolf Bill Giachetto out in the cold..... Phyl Mugge, Delta Gam, glamor girl, is kinda that way about Bob Allen Alpha Delt..... Nancy Pearman, Pi Phi, has completely forgotten St. Louis men and has turned her attentions toward the Phi Delt shack.

MAN of the Week

Today I am a man ! Exactly one year old and a few hours to spare. "Duffer" by name, but just a true campus rounder to all who really know me. Yes sir, everyone thinks I'm a well-minded cuss and they might be correct at that. However, underneath it all, that air of independency which I carry in my hip pocket is the greatest thing I possess.

The picture, as you can plainly see, was taken just before my first bath. What a bore that was! Always wanting a fella' to be clean n' pretty n' having his hair well groomed....boy, that makes me sick. Being a campus "jo" is not my ambition....just give me a romp down the alley and a dirty ol'e bone to knaw on. That's the life for me!

My favorite playground is any yard or field with many trees. To us canine buddies...a man's best friend is a tree! The hunting trips the boys take me on are a great pleasure, although my knowledge of retrieving isn't quite up to par as yet.

I have a pet peeve...that is being compelled to do tricks for my meals. I'd rather mooch a bite to eat from the boys at the Midway or nose around under the tables at the Annex. You'd be surprised just what a fella' will find under the table...and it's not everyday one can get a birds eye view of those curvy, silk-stocking clad legs. Wow, what a lucky man I am!

Going to class in the New Ag Bldg. every morning at 9 o'clock is a terrific strain. I'd much prefer a morning dip in the ol'e Bone Yard Creek and a short beer at Lou Hodge's 608. Instead they have to irritate me with those darn subjects, such as, Sociology, English, and most of all, Geography.

Love-life is scarce in these parts. Yep, I've found a girl, but it's no soap when asked to reveal her identity! Spring is just about here, you know, and a fella' can't take any chances. Well, I'll be seeing you at the nearest fireplug!

WOMAN of the Week

RUTH MEYER

Alpha Chi Omega's sweet and friendly Ann Catlett is the recently elected president of Zeta Phi Eta, speech honorary.

A Woman's League enthusiast of the first degree, Ann plans to attend the organization's national convention at Columbus, Ohio, the weekend of April 8. She has held Sophomore Council membership, chairmanship of the activity banquet and installation of the newly chosen officers, in Woman's League. Next year she will divide her time between being Senior Representative in the League and managing the social affairs of the Alpha Chi house.

Having inherited her father's restless spirit, Ann has traveled from Vancouver in the north to Texas in the south, and from California's Pasadena to Broadway in New York. She likes the wide cleanness of northern Texas over the comparative greasiness of the border country, New York's night life and the friendliness of all Californians, except the income tax collectors.

Ann has no pin-man nor steady to whom she devotes her time, but plays the field consistently. Read carefully, fellows, She prefers friendly guys, who have a hankering for sports and an occasional twirl on the dance floor, who have enough, but not too much, intelligence, and who are independent. Referring to the latter, quote Ann, "you might as well like them that way, 'cause they re born that way anyhow."

A speech major, Ann plans to attend Katy Gibbs' private secretarial school in Boston after her graduation a year from June. The only requirement that Ann wants in her future position is that it includes meeting people. Personnel work will be her probable career.

This summer Ann will do her darndest to master the art of golf and attend as many baseball games in the Chicago Cubs' Wrigley field. The rest of her time will be given to a cross-country tour on bicycle to homes of Alpha Chis.
