Dear Bill,

Joanne and I want to thank you for a super day - June 14th. We each took off on a vacation/annual leave and wondered whether our day would be "worth" the costs of a day's leave. Believe me, it was well worth it.

We plan to use the information we got in our next reunion set for January 31 - February 2, 1992. We have invited John Ripley and General Peay as well as author Linda VanDeventer, Home Before Morning. We hope you will plan to attend with your wife and family. I enclose a registration blank for your use.

I met and gave each Viet Nam vet there our yellow card. If they will mark their calendars now and plan to attend, we will have ten new people through ITT Sheraton's seminar. As you know, Vietnam Reunions are generally being done a person at a time. The information in Johnson's book will help me to try to reach all my D Company, 4th Med men and get them to the 1993 reunion - the 25th year since 1968 TET.

We will seriously consider the Sheraton for this 1993 reunion. I still don't think our vets are ready for such a nice place. We need a hotel capable of housing 450 people in 250 rooms, with a large room for meetings and vendors. We also need one where they will allow our vendors and us to put things on the walls with push pins. The Jefferson was too nice to do this to its walls and, in fact, wall space was very sparse. Maybe the Airport Sheraton with other hotels nearby would work this out.
