

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

WASHINGTON

A Personal Note to the Returning Veteran:

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you on your return to civilian life.

Your Government is fully aware of the personal sacrifices being made in the cause of world peace, and appreciates the individual contribution made by you in strengthening the security of the free world.

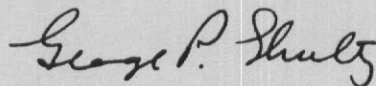

Now your thoughts will be turning to the ways in which you may contribute to and share in the prosperity and growth of our Nation. With this in mind the U. S. Department of Labor has prepared the enclosed leaflet to help you find the job that means the most to you and to your future.

Many returning servicemen have elected to further enhance their backgrounds and qualifications by undertaking graduate studies. I recommend your consideration of this course of action.

The Veterans Administration and numerous other Federal agencies offer student support, grants, fellowships, loans, work-study, and other forms of substantial assistance to those who wish to pursue further study. The best way to find out about such programs is to get in touch with the college or university at which you may wish to take graduate work, or with your nearest Veterans Administration office.

Thank you for your service to your country and best wishes for success in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

George P. Shultz
Secretary of Labor
