

H TROOP (AIR) 10TH CAVALRY

ANSON VIETNAM 1972

1972

H Troop began its long and distinguished career 28 July 1866 at Ft Leavenworth Kansas. For the next 55 years H. Troop patrolled the western frontier. participating in 3 different campaigns of the Indian wars. From 1916-1917 H Troop took part in the Mexican Expedition, providing security and aggressively tracking down elements of the hostile force opposing them. After 55 years of outstanding service H Troop hung up its crossed sabers 1 Sept. 1921 at Ft. Huachuca Arizona. H Troop remained off the active rolls of army units until redesignated on 6 Dec. 1969 as H Troop 10th Cavalry assigned to 25th Infantry division and activated in Hawaii. After spending 28 months in Hawaii H Troop's colors were shipped to Viet Nam as part of the 1st Aviation Brigade.

Members of C Troop 7/17 Cav became H Troop 10th Cav and participated in the Kontum and Binh Dinh offensives from Mid-April until the present time. In mid-April H Troop was deployed at Holloway Army Air Field in Pleiku. During the Kontum offensive the troop was a valuable asset to the defense of Kontum and Pleiku. H Troop in an air cavalry role pinpointed enemy locations, supply caches, and infiltration routes.

Some of the actions H Troop participated in were: Evacuation of Rocket Ridge, Siege of Ben Het, the defense of Kontum City itself and the battle for Kontum Pass. The price for victory at Kontum was a steep one. It was through the heroic actions of men like Cpt. Thomas Powell, Cpt. Fred Suttle, Lt. Robert Wilcoxson, Lt. Daryl Kunzler and SP4 Paul Pesces that Kontum was kept from the hands of its communist aggressors.

After the main threat to the Kontum area was over, H Troop returned to its home base of An Son. The tactical situation from LZ Crystal north was at a low ebb. The NVA forces were threatening to overrun Crystal when the cavalry arrived. H Troop played a major role in breaking up the siege of Crystal by seeking out and destroying the enemy. As the ground troops moved north into enemy held territory, the men of H Troop were always one step ahead locating the enemy for ARVN units.

The disruption of enemy lines of communications, the destruction of his supplies, and the casualties inflicted by H Troop was only a small part of their overall mission. Many hours were spent seeking intelligence on which the ground commanders based their tactical decisions. In the breaking of the siege of LZ Crystal and the recapture of the coastal area up to Tam Quan, H Troop once more paid the bitter price for victory. Although the only Cavalryman killed in action was WO1 Harold McCaslin, many more of our comrades were wounded in action.

It is in this Cav tradition that the men of H Troop will carry on their mission. We dedicate this year book to our fallen comrades and their loved ones they left behind.
