Candlelight Vigil of the National Salute to Vietnam Veterans

A Reverent Observance of the Human Sacrifices of the Vietnam War

Of the 2.7 million men and women who served in Vietnam, 57,939 did not return. These Americans, who gave their lives or remain missing, will be remembered individually for the sacrifices they made for their country during these 56 hours of continuous reading of their names.

Just as a person's name is his most sacred possession in life as well as in death, it is fitting that the remembrance of that name take place in the holy surroundings of our National Cathedral.

Names will be read by volunteers who give their time to honor those whom their voices commemorate.

Prayers of the Roman Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and Unitarian churches will be read during each hour; one prayer will be recited at each quarter hour. Candles will be lit to mark the beginning of each session in each of the chapels during the three days of the vigil.

The National Cathedral

The official name of the cathedral is the Cathedral Church of Saint Peter and Saint Paul. It is the cathedral of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington, often referred to as the Washington Cathedral. Since it seeks to serve the whole nation, offering its ministry on behalf of all people, it is also widely known as the National Cathedral.

In 1893 Congress granted a charter creating the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral Foundation and in 1907 the foundation stone was laid. Fourteenth-century Gothic in style, the cathedral is built in the shape of a cross. When complete, the cathedral will be the sixth largest in the world.

The tympanum, a sculpture element which graces the cathedral's west front entrance, was designed by sculptor Frederick Hart, who also designed the sculptural grouping of three servicemen for the Vietnam Veterans Memorial.

In addition to the twelve hundred regular religious services held each year in the cathedral, services are held as well for other denominations and for many national, civic and government organizations. Although administered by the Episcopal Church, it is by its charter "a house of prayer for all people."

The Cathedral has been the site of many national services of mourning and of rejoicing. Most recently, the chapels have been used for vigils for peace, for the hostages in Iran and for the children of Atlanta.

The National Salute to Vietnam Veterans

The National Salute to Vietnam Veterans is being held from November 10 to 14, 1982, to provide the nation an opportunity to honor and recognize—at long last—the service and sacrifice of those who fought in the Vietnam war. This five-day series of events, which celebrates the purpose and progress of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, includes entertainment, military unit reunions, a parade, and the dedication of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial. It is only fitting and proper that the National Salute opens with the candlelight vigil that will pay final tribute to those men and women who gave their lives or remain missing in the service of their country.

Please join with us as we remember and honor those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

Every attempt has been made to pronounce names correctly. Please forgive any mistakes that may occur.
