>>Sorry to be a pest, but although I've been to the VN Helo Pilot's Assn >>webpage before, I never noticed that they have a staggering index of >>battles listed by date of battle. Each link has a one paragraph >>description of the units involved, location, casualties and etc.
>>I found several errors in the few I opened (Province is often listed as >>"Quang Tri" no matter where it took place!) but overall it is an awesome >>collection of thousands upon thousands of battles. Just loading the >>index takes beacoup long time (over 800k)! The ramifications associated >>with this list are manifold and exciting. for one thing it would serve >>as an important reference for the VA and VA Vet Centers for pinpointing >>dates and actions for claims. Same holds true for vets in general. For >>the historian, it is a treasure chest, period. I wrote them and >>suggested it be published.
>>go to the following site. It will blow your mind:
