SECTION VIII - Army Flight Class Inventory

This section is different again this year. It is an inventory of the Army flight class type documents that the database committee has to date. Our objective is to identify all helicopter pilots eligible to join the VHPA by compiling a complete list of rated helicopter pilots during the Vietnam era. So far the database contains about 18,000 people. The types of information listed below in order are: Ft. Wolters graduation programs, Ft. Rucker graduation programs, Hunter AAF graduation programs, orders assigning wings, hazardous duty orders, social rosters, and class pictures from Ft. Wolters. The only non-Army lists that we have are for those trained by the Army as part of a regular class or as a special class like the Air Force did in the early 1970s.

If your class is not on this list, or certain types of information are missing (N/A = not available or Unknown), please send copies to Gary Roush or to the VHPA headquarters. Also if your class hat color is missing or not correct, please let us know.

The following abbreviations are used in this section: ORWAC = Officer Rotary Wing Aviator Course, WORWAC = Warrant Officer Rotary Wing Aviator Course, RWQC = Rotary Wing Qualification Course, N/A = Not Available, Unknown = need information, Yes = Have available, Yes/TBD = have available but not yet counted (To Be Determined), No/number = do not have the class list but have the count from some other source. The numbers indicate the number of people we have in each of the categories.

Basic Army training was done by the Air Force in L-19's at Camp Gary in San Marcos, TX until Camp Wolters was reactivated in 1957. Fixed Wing class 59-13 was the last one to go through Camp Gary. Flight Class 59-4 was the first all officer class to go through Camp Wolters. Fort Wolters was closed in January 1973. Hunter was started in 1968.

In the late 60's and early 70's, Air Force helicopter pilots were trained in UH-1, H-3, and H-43's at Shepard AFB, Wichita Falls, TX. H-53 drivers were trained at Eglin AFB.

A special thanks to all of the database committee members for their long hours at their computers to type in all of these lists. We are about 70% through the information that we have, and expect to have all of the available information that we have computerized in time for the 1993 directory. The active committee members are: Robert Anderson, Steve Bolling, Mark Hansen, Lew Jennings, Dennis L. Lockard, Charles Petty, Jim Ramage, Louis Rochat, Roger Stickney, Edward Strazzini, John Halvorsen, Donald Magill, Ron Stokes, Chuck Baird, Dan Toothman, Ross Rainwater, and Jim Schueckler.

SONGS OF HELICOPTER PILOTS IN VIETNAM

Evenings at some officers' clubs in Vietnam were lightened by songs written and performed by pilots. Subjects included flying, humor, Saigon girls, the desire to go home, the Vietnam experience, and rousing esprit-de-corps. The songs traveled among units. The 48th AHC had a song book. The 173rd AHC "Merrymen", and the 174th's "Three Majors and a Minor" performed at a Commander's Conference. These songs are now part of our folklore, in fact a folklore student wrote his master's thesis on helicopter pilot songs from Vietnam. Some of the songs went back to Fort Wolters, Texas to be performed by the Warrant Officer Candidate Chorus, which even cut a 45 rpm record of "Saber Wings" and "This Is My Country". The songs below were frequently sung by the WOC Chorus, but there is no record of the authors. If anyone knows the authors of these, or knows the words to other similar songs, or has the 45 rpm record, please contact member Jim Schueckler.

SABER WINGS

(author unknown helicopter pilot in Vietnam circa 1968 - unique tune)

Saber wings will lift us when we get the call,
Through the dawn like eagles we will soar.
Roll the pitch and throttle, cyclic to the wall,
Listen to the Army eagles roar.

(Chorus:)

We're winged soldiers, we fly above the best,
Defenders of the land and the free.
From the sky we do or die, let the angels rest.
Winged soldiers are we.

Charging o'er the jungle, hear our rotors roar,
Down through the valley toward the hill.
Fighting aviators, out to win the war,
Here comes the Army's Esquadille.
Chorus

Rotor blades are coning, RPM is low.
I see the needles splitting now and then.
Gotta get that pitch down, get right pedal in,
Oh my God, it's mud I'm landing in!

Chorus (with extra half rest)

ARMY AVIATION

(author unknown helicopter pilot in Vietnam circa 1968 - tune "Oleander")

Fly the jungles, fly the mountains, fly the whole Vietnam.
Carry cargo, carry troopers, carry anything we can.

(Chorus)

Army Aviation, Army Aviation.
Haul away, night and day, Army Aviation.

Into combat, out again, making infantry mobile.
Doing things they never dreamed of, seeking out VC to kill.

Chorus

South to Saigon, North to Pleiku, back again to eastern shores, from the Delta, to the highlands, beating at old Charlie's door.

Chorus

Now here's to the aviator who's gone before, he guides our path of flight.
He served his country and he gave his all, now he's wearing wings of white.

Slicks and gunships as a team, giant Chinooks and the rest,
Caribou, and the Mohawk, we will fly above the best.

Chorus

ABOVE THE FINEST

(author unknown helicopter pilot in Vietnam circa 1968 - unique tune)

(Chorus:)

Above the finest, no heart is weak or frail.
That our land may live in peace, our mission will prevail.
Stand and be proud, these wings we cherish dear,
And as Army Aviators let our foe beware when we get there.

Vietnam erupted in the fall of 'sixty four.
A few were there already, but the call went out for more.
So Army Aviators from Rucker, Wolters, too,
Took off their greens, put on fatigues, and wings of silver hue.

Above the finest, our hearts are strong and true.
They best beware when we get there, with wings of silver hue.

Victor Charlie fought us, in steaming jungle rot
With punji sticks and ambush and battles fierce and hot.
Those gunships in formation, those slicks and dustoffs, too,
They clobbered Victor Charlie's ranks with the choppers from the blue.

The fighting still continues, our choppers never rest.
From dawn to ev'ry sunset we give the Cong our best.
When hist'ry books are written, and ballads bold and true:
They'll know we flew and won with these, our wings of silver hue.

Chorus:

GREEN FLIGHT PAY

(from 48th AHC song book - tune: "Ballad of the Green Beret")

Silver wings upon my chest, I fly my chopper above the best
I can make more dough that way, But I can't wear no Green Beret.

Tennis shoes upon his feet, Some people call him sneaky Pete
He sneaks around the woods all day, Wearing that funny Green Beret.

It's no jungle floor for me, I've never seen a rubber tree
A thousand men must take the test, While I fly home and take a rest.

And while I fly my chopper home, And leave him out there all alone
That is where Green B'rays belong, Out in the jungle writing songs.

And when my little boy is grown, Don't leave him out there all alone
Just let him fly and give him pay, Cause he can't spend no Green Beret.

And when my little boy is old, His silver wings all lined with gold Then he Will wear a Green Beret, In the big parade, Saint Patrick's Day.

SECTION IX - Southeast Asian Helicopter Units

What follows is the third edition of what is without a doubt the most exhaustive list of helicopter units, that served in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam Era, published to date by any source. Please remember that the scope of this roster includes not only units that had organic helicopters but also units where a helicopter pilot might normally have served. This edition expands the format of previous editions, contains new and updated information, plus some minor corrections. The new format clearly identifies those areas where data is needed. If you see UNK (a code for a date that is unknown) and/or the word "Help" in the comments column, and you can provide the date or an estimate of the date; please send it to the VHPA. We still need help with the Air America, Korean, and Thai operations. The data for the Vietnamese Air Force (VNAF) helicopter squadrons came from "Flying Dragons" by Robert C. Mikes. Comments, additions, corrections to this roster should be directed to Bill Greenhalgh or Mike Law either directly or via the VHPA.

Royal Australian Navy Helicopter Flight Vietnam (RANHVF) flew as part of US Army's 135th AHC.

U.S. Coast Guard - "A History of U.S. Coast Guard Aviation" by Arthur Percy states that 7,000 members served in Vietnam but does not mention that any USCG helicopters were there. From Apr 68 until Nov 72, three USCG helicopter pilots were assigned to the USAF 37th ARRS based at Da Nang. One USCG pilot was killed in Vietnam, LT Jack Rittichier.

SECTION XII - AFTER ACTION REPORTS

These "After Action Reports" are a continuation of the last two year's compilations of eye witness accounts, accident reports, official documentation, and special interest groups. Sources of the information range from the Defense Intelligence Agency, the Joint Casualty Resolution Center, the State Department, the POW Network (Task Force of Illinois, Inc.), to direct inputs from VHPA members. It is an attempt to accurately document specific events that involved loss of life and/or destruction of helicopters during the Vietnam war. It is not an attempt to incite or promote political issues. Some of the information used for this section contains opinions that may not accurately describe the events as they occurred. We have tried to remove these when they are obvious. Like everything in this Directory, this information is only as accurate as the members of the VHPA can make it, so please send in your additions and corrections to the VHPA Headquarters. Gary Roush has put this section together and would appreciate your help and feedback.

This information is in order by date of the event and contains all new material which has never appeared in a VHPA directory.

After Action Report for: 5 September 1965 LA GRAND, WILLIAM JOHN

REFNO: R0137
Name: William John LaGrand
Rank/Branch: W2/US Army
Unit: 197th Aviation Company 145th Aviation Battalion
Date of Birth: 11 May 1941
Home City of Record: Portland, OR
Date of Loss: 05 September 1965
Country of Loss: South Vietnam
Loss Coordinates: 110655N 1065516E
Status (in 1973): Killed/Body Not Recovered
Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: A-1G

Other Personnel In Incident: (none missing)

SYNOPSIS: William La Grand was a passenger aboard an A-1G aircraft on a flight which departed Bien Hoa on September 5, 1965. The aircraft was seen to crash and no ejections were observed from the aircraft prior to impact.

The area in which the aircraft went down was under hostile control at the time, and recovery and excavation attempts at the time were thwarted because of heavy enemy activity in the area and hostile presence.

After Action Report for: 18 June 1967 LEMMONS, WILLIAM E.

REFNO: R0734
Name: William E. Lemmons
Rank/Branch: O2/US Army
Unit: HHC, 196th Infantry Brigade (Light)
Date of Birth: 12 January 1942
Home City of Record: Pocatello, ID
Date of Loss: 18 June 1967
Country of Loss: South Vietnam
Loss Coordinates: 143303N 1083012E
Status (in 1973): Missing In Action
Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: OH-23

Other Personnel In Incident: Edward Guillory; James McKittrick (both missing)

SYNOPSIS: SFC Edward Guillory, Lt. William Lemmons and Maj. James McKittrick were aboard an OH-23 Raven helicopter on a visual recon mission operating in Quang Tin Province on June 18, 1967. They were to spot artillery targets for the Artillery Battery that McKittrick and Guillory were attached to.

At 1845 hours, the helicopter was declared missing. Extensive searches were conducted that night aided by artillery flares and aircraft mounted searchlights, but no trace of the aircraft or crew was found. In the next few days several crash sites were reported and searches made, but all efforts were fruitless.

Other Personnel In Incident: WO1 Joseph Rose, E4 Michael Lenker, E5 Robert Chenowith, E4 James George, Jr. (MIA), and LTC Benjamin Purcell.

SYNOPSIS: All of the people on this helicopter were captured, served as POWs, and then released except for E4 George who was killed while in captivity. The following is a first person account by Dick Ziegler:

"On February 8, 1968 I was assigned to fly LTC Ben Purcell up to Dong Ha with high frequency radio parts. The other pilot was Joe Rose. My crew chief was SP5 Robert Chenowith and the door gunner was SP4 Mike Lenker. George was a refrigerator mechanic and went along to fix some refrigerators at Dong Ha. We took off from Danang and proceeded to Hue where we landed so LTC Purcell could be briefed by the Marine General on what the situation in I Corps was and what equipment they needed. After he was briefed, we departed Hue for Dong Ha. The weather was just a little shitty. Ceilings were about 400-500 feet. I flew along the coast to avoid the enemy and then when we were about even with Quang Tri, I headed inland until I reached highway 1. We then flew north to Dong Ha.

After delivering the radio parts and LTC Purcell being briefed, we took off and headed back to Danang. Joe was flying. We decided to head back the same way we came up. After we left highway 1 to head back to the coast, we flew over an enemy unit that had moved into the area after we had passed that spot going to Dong Ha. There must have been a million of them. Well, they just pointed their weapons skyward and fired. We flew right through the ground fire. I was wounded in the left thigh and belly. The Huey was on fire. Joe crashed the helicopter in a grave yard. What a hell of a place to crash.

Once on the ground and out of the burning helicopter we tried to E & E out of the area. I was wounded and kind of in shock. One passenger, SP4 George, was badly burned from the crash and we had one runaway M60 machine gun, 45 cal pistols, and an M14 rifle. We walked for about 30 minutes to an hour when the VC came up from behind us and started firing. Guess what? We were in another grave yard! Damn things are all over the place. Well, I hid behind a grave and watched LTC Purcell wave his olive drab handkerchief and say we were surrendering. I didn't want to do that. I thought that the VC would torture and murder us. So I crawled out of the grave yard and hid in some bushes near by. All of the crew and passengers were taken prisoner at that time.

I waited in my hiding place until night fall and then I tried to find some friendly faces. I don't think there were any in I Corps that night. I found some armored vehicle tracks in the sand and tried to follow them. I lost them in some marshes. I continued to walk most of the night.

About 2 hours after dawn came, I was hiding behind some more bushes and I observed a combat assault (CA) coming in about 5 kilometers from my position. All that CA did was push the enemy towards me. In a little while, a group of VC (nine little boys with big guns) came up over the sand dunes. At the same time, a Huey flew over my position so close that if I would have had a rock I could have hit the door gunner with it. The VC had heard the Huey and had gone into hiding and the Huey never saw them or me.

After the Huey left they started towards me again. I was laying on my back with my 45 on my chest saying, 'God if you get me out of this I'll never sin again.' God had me on hold and never answered my call. One of the VC saw me, yelled and started firing his weapon. They all started firing their weapons in every direction. I raised up to one knee with my weapon in my hand and for some strange reason before I knew it, both of my arms were above my head in the, 'Don't shot I surrender' mode.

It took about 5 days of walking to get to my jungle camp where I first got medical attention for my wounds. To my surprise all of my crew and LTC Purcell were also in that camp. The VC had executed SP4 George the day after he surrendered because of his burns. At this camp, I also met an American POW by the name of King Rafford. He had been captured in 1967 looking for a whore house in Hue. He didn't find it, but he got screwed. There was also a VC medic in the camp and he treated my wounds and probably saved my life. Credit where credit's due.

I made my last escape attempt in this camp with King Rafford. We saved our meager ration of rice and I exercised my leg in the hooch out of sight of the guards. Then one night, King and I just walked out of the camp. It gets mighty dark in triple canopy jungle at night. We had to navigate by the light from fire flies. Otherwise, we would just keep bumping into trees. Those trees are hard too in the jungle. The next day King and I were recaptured about 5 kilometers from the camp. I spent the next 10 days in a hole in the ground with reduced rations.

Shortly after my escape attempt, we were moved out of our camp and moved to North Vietnam. It took us 11 days of marching to reach the Ho Chi Mein trail and another 11 days of riding trucks up the trail before we got to our first camp in North Vietnam.

I spent approximately 5 months in this camp, that was located in a Vietnamese village, in solitary confinement. I was housed in a thatched roofed hooch and my room was the size of a closet. That is, it was 6 feet long by 2.5 feet wide by 6 feet high with stocks at the end of the room. I'm 6'2" tall. I hit my head a lot.

After 5 months we were moved to a camp that was not far from Hanoi and I spent until November of 1970 in this camp. I had my other pilot, that was shot down with me, in the room with me from then on. His name is Joe Rose. At times I also had another Warrant Officer helicopter pilot in the room with me. His name is Michael O'Conner.

After the Sun Tay raid, we were moved to the metropolitan area of Hanoi to a camp that was named the 'Plantation Gardens'.

After the B52's came to Hanoi in Christmas of 1972, we were finally moved to the infamous prison called 'The Hanoi Hilton'. We stayed there until the end of the war and I was released on 5 March 1973. And boy was I glad to leave!"

Status (in 1973): Killed/Body Not Recovered
Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: UH-1E

Other Personnel in Incident: Bruce E. Kane (missing)

SYNOPSIS: 1Lt. Ronald J. Janousek and Cpl. Bruce E. Kane were U.S. Marines attached to units of the 36th and 11th Marine Aircraft Groups, respectively. On August 9, 1969, the two were killed in the crash of a UH-1E helicopter.

Defense Department records indicate that Janousek and Kane were lost at Khe Sanh, in Quang Tri Province. The U.S. Marines state that Janousek's helicopter was hit by heavy enemy fire and crashed and burned. The U.S. Marines state that Kane's helicopter disappeared on a night reconnaissance mission. Joint Casualty Resolution Center records (considered by some analysts to be the most accurate of all records), indicate that the loss occurred in central South Vietnam.

Information obtained from family and other sources indicate that Kane and Janousek's aircraft crashed and burned in the Se Kong River near the border of Laos and South Vietnam north of the A Chau Valley, and that they had been on a secret mission in Laos. The U.S. State Department lists both men as killed in a hostile action, and further lists Kane as drowned and Janousek as a crew member of the aircraft.

Capt. Lyon moaned and then a shot was heard from his position about 30 feet from the aircraft wreckage. No other outcry from Capt. Lyon was heard, and the others believed that he had been killed by the guard.

Two weeks later, Capt. Parsels was told by 1Lt. Lee Van Mac (an NVA commander at "Camp Farnsworth") that Capt. Lyon died from his wounds and was buried at the crash site. 1Lt. Lee Van Mac gave Capt. Parsels the personal effects of Capt. Lyon, including his ID card and several photos which appeared to be of Lyon's wife.

In late March, 1973, Parsels, Hefel and Kobashigawa were released from prisons in North Vietnam. In their debriefings, all three concurred on the story that Lyon had apparently been shot. They considered it a mercy killing, because their pilot had been so seriously injured that they doubted that he could survive.

Other Personnel in Incident: Tom Y. Kobashigawa, John W. Parsels, Daniel H. Hefel (returned POWs)

SYNOPSIS: At 1530 hours on February 5, 1970, Capt. James M. Lyon, pilot, Capt. John W. Parsels, copilot, SP5 Tom Y. Kobashigawa, crew chief, and SP4 Daniel Hefel, door gunner, were flying a UH-1H helicopter (serial #68-16441) on a maintenance mission from Hue to Phy Bai, South Vietnam.

When the aircraft was about 18 miles northwest of Hue City, the helicopter caught fire and crashed (due to a malfunction). Capt. Lyon was thrown clear of the aircraft and was burned extensively over his body and part of his right leg. His leg was severed four inches below the knee. The other crew members were also injured and could not take evasive action. They were captured at 1630 hours by NVA troops and spent the night near the crash site.

Throughout the night, the crew members heard their pilot yelling and moaning in pain. At 0600 hours,

Other Personnel in Incident: Berman Ganoe; Rudy M. Becerra; John Boronski; Gary A. Harned, Jerry L. Pool (all missing)

SYNOPSIS: On March 24, 1970, WO John C. Hoskins, pilot; Capt. Michael D. O'Donnell, aircraft commander; SP4 Rudy M. Becerra, crew chief; and SP4 Berman Ganoe, gunner, were the crew of a UH-1H helicopter (serial #68-15262) on an emergency extraction of a MACV-SOG long-range reconnaissance patrol (LRRP) from a landing zone in Ratanakiri Province Cambodia, near the tri-border area. The team included 1Lt. Jerry L. Pool, team leader and team members SSgt. John A. Boronski and Sgt. Gary A. Harned.

The team had been in heavy contact with the enemy and had requested an immediate extraction. Capt. O'Donnell evaluated the situation and decided to pick them up. He landed on the LZ and was on the ground for about 4 minutes, and then transmitted that he had the entire team on board. The aircraft was beginning its ascent when it was hit by enemy fire, and an explosion in the aircraft was seen. The helicopter continued in flight for about 300 meters, then another explosion occurred, causing the aircraft to crash in the jungle.

No one was observed to have been thrown from the aircraft during either explosion. The aircraft began to burn immediately upon impact. Aerial search and rescue efforts began immediately; however, no signs of life could be seen around the crash site. Because of the enemy situation, attempts to insert search teams into the area were futile. SAR efforts were discontinued on April 18. Search and rescue teams who surveyed the site reported that they did not hold much hope for survival for the men aboard, but lacking proof that they were dead, the Army declared all 7 missing in action.

The Special Forces team aboard the chopper was working with Military Assistance Command Vietnam Studies and Observation Group (MACV-SOG), a joint service, high command, unconventional warfare task force engaged in highly classified operations throughout Southeast Asia. The 5th Special Forces channeled personnel into MACV-SOG (though it was not a Special Forces group) through Special Operations Augmentation (SOA) which provided their "cover" while under secret orders to MACV-SOG. These teams performed deep penetration missions of strategic reconnaissance and interdiction which were called, depending on the time frame, "Shining Brass" or "Prairie Fire" missions.

Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: AH1G

SYNOPSIS: On April 23, 1970, Capt. Larron D. Murphy, aircraft commander; and WO Dennis K. Eads, pilot; were flying an AH-1G (serial #67-15612) in the wingman position in a flight of four aircraft conducting an emergency night mission to extract a long-range reconnaissance patrol (LRRP). The aircraft crashed in the vicinity while en route to recover the patrol.

The two UH1-H helicopters on the flight aborted the mission because of adverse weather conditions. However, the two AH1G aircraft continued in order to provide fire support for the patrol to allow them to break contact with the enemy. The aircraft flew north until they were sighted by the patrol. The lead ship made several radio contacts with Capt. Murphy. The last transmission instructed him to turn to a heading of 90 degrees.

About 30 seconds later, Capt. Murphy called, "20, this is 28. I'm crashing." This is the last contact or communication with Capt. Murphy. Members of the patrol reported that they had observed a very bright flash to the southwest, which was presumed to have been one of the aircraft. The remaining helicopter returned to Chu Lai, unable to search for the downed aircraft because of the inclement weather.

The following morning, members of the patrol were flown to inspect the crash site where they conducted a detailed search of the area, but there was no trace of either the downed aircraft or the crew. The presumed site of the crash was about 10 miles southwest of the city of An Hoa in Quang Nam Province, South Vietnam.

Other Personnel In Incident: WO Donald G. Study, co-pilot; SP4 Zettie J.C. Dulin, crew chief; and PFC Randall W. Love

SYNOPSIS: John R. Hill never considered another person as an enemy. That is why he chose to pilot Medical Evacuation helicopters and the reason he did not hesitate to pick up anyone who was injured, regardless of nationality, civilian or military.

On April 27, 1970, Capt. Hill, pilot; WO Donald G. Study, co-pilot; SP4 Zettie J.C. Dulin, crew chief; and PFC Randall W. Love were the crew of a UH-1H helicopter (serial #66-17626, call sign Dustoff 712) conducting a medevac mission when the aircraft crashed into the sea.

The helicopter was returning to Quang Tri when it went down. All occupants exited the aircraft safely, although PFC Love went under and was not seen to surface. No one aboard the aircraft was wearing life jackets. The three remaining crewmen began swimming toward flares on the beach. Capt. Hill fell behind and became separated from the other two. Later, during the night, SP4 Dulin and WO Study were separated. WO Study was rescued by a Korean LST in the mouth of Da Nang Bay.

On May 3, the bodies of SP4 Dulin and PFC Love were recovered. An extensive search was conducted from April 28, through May 12 for Capt. Hill, but no trace was ever found. He was listed as killed and it was considered that his remains would never be found.

Status (in 1973): Missing In Action (Declared dead 09/19/78)
Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: OH6A

Other Personnel In Incident: (none missing)

SYNOPSIS: The 3rd Squadron, 4th Cavalry provided ground reconnaissance for the 25th Infantry Division in Vietnam. Troop D was its air cavalry troop, serving mostly with the divisions 25th Aviation Battalion. In 1970, after having seen combat in the Saigon area during the Tet offensive of 1968, the Division continued its primary operations around Cu Chi, South Vietnam, and in the spring of 1970 sent elements into Cambodia seeking North Vietnamese Army sanctuaries.

W2 Andrew J. Elliot was a pilot assigned to Troop D, and on June 9, 1970 was assigned a flight to a fire support base at Katum South Vietnam. Aboard the OH-6A "Loach" with Elliott were SP5 Stephen L. Gobry and SP4 Jerry W. McGlothen, passengers.

When the aircraft was about half-way between Fire Support Base Santa Barbara and Katum, WO Elliott radioed that he could not see the road nor Katum. He was instructed by the command and control aircraft to go to Tay Ninh and shut down, that everyone would be called to Korohey as soon as the weather cleared. Elliott acknowledged and said, "I'm going to Tay Ninh at this time." This was the last communication with Elliott.

After it was determined that WO Elliott's aircraft was missing, a full scale search effort was initiated and continued for 5 days. On June 24, the wreckage was found and recovery teams inserted into the crash site. The bodies of Gobry and McGlothen were recovered and positively identified. About 50 meters from the crash site, near the body of McGlothen, a helmet and chest protector belonging to Elliott were found. It appeared that the body had been dragged to this position from the crash site. A search team remained on the ground 4 days, but were never able to find any trace of Elliott. He was listed Missing in Action.

Status (in 1973): Killed/Body Not Recovered
Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: OH-6A

Other Personnel In Incident: (none missing)

SYNOPSIS: The OH-6A Cayuse (commonly called "Loach") was the result of the U.S. Defense Department's vision of a single helicopter able to perform such duties as personnel or cargo transport, light ground attack, casualty evacuation, observation, and photographic reconnaissance. It proved most effective at visual reconnaissance, however, searching out the enemy even in heavily defended areas, as the crew peered through gaps in the jungle canopy from the oval pod-shaped aircraft.

On November 24, 1970, WO1 Ian McIntosh was an observer on an OH1A helicopter (tail number 67-16484), flown by Capt. Robert J. Young, on an armed reconnaissance mission with two Cobra gunships southeast of Khe Sanh.

The aircraft had been flying for approximately an hour and 3 minutes when the crew observed what appeared to be a new NVA living area. The Cobra gunships engaged the target, and the OH-6A subsequently entered the target area to assess the damage. The OH6A was hit by automatic rifle fire on the underside in the left front area where WO1 McIntosh was sitting (nearly the entire front from above head level to below knee level was glass).

Capt. Young immediately left the target area, noticing that WO1 McIntosh was in a great deal of pain and trying to straighten up. At that time, the aircraft engine quit, so the pilot attempted to land in an open area. The aircraft burst into flames before crashing in the vicinity. Capt. Young believed WO McIntosh died shortly after the crash. The flames were starting to enter the cockpit, so the pilot pulled himself out, and just as he got out, the aircraft became engulfed in flames. Three minutes later, the helicopter exploded with WO1 McIntosh still inside.

Ian McIntosh was declared Killed, Body Not Recovered. His name appears among the missing because no body was found to return home for burial. He is one of two Canadians on the U.S. military rolls of missing, and one of many from that country that willingly volunteered to fight against the spread of communism in Southeast Asia.

SYNOPSIS: On February 12, 1971, WO McLeod was the pilot and Capt. Clyde D. Wilkinson the aircraft commander of an AH-1G helicopter flying an armed reconnaissance mission west of Quang Tri, South Vietnam. During an attack on a target, McLeod's aircraft was hit by enemy ground fire. He radioed that the engine oil bypass caution light was on, and that he would attempt to return to Khe Sanh.

On the return attempt, the aircraft began to smoke and burn, and the crew attempted to land the aircraft. Just prior to touchdown, the aircraft exploded and crashed, followed by intense fire and ammunition detonation.

After the aircraft had cooled, several passes were made overhead, but no survivors were detected. The aircraft had been almost completely consumed by the intense fire and explosions. Search continued by air, but no sign of the crew was ever found. Enemy presence prohibited ground search.

SYNOPSIS: 1Lt David May and John Eric Reed were part of a four-man crew aboard a UH 1C helicopter with an emergency resupply mission in Laos. The aircraft was hit by 50 caliber ground fire, and headed for the ground.

When the craft reached the ground, it landed upright on its skids, with the tail boom broken off and the right aft burning. The left pilot's door had been jettisoned and both seats were empty. Witnesses said it was definitely "a survivable crash".

SYNOPSIS: Barry Fivelson was a passenger aboard a CH-47C helicopter assigned the task of ferrying a load of gasoline into Laos. An observer plane reported that the helicopter overflew its destination by several miles, then either exploded or broke in half. Their location was about 150 miles north of the Mekong Delta.

An aerial search, according to information given to family members failed to find evidence of a crash. A ground search was not possible because of hostile threat in the area. (Note that Joint Casualty Resolution Center data remark indicates that a crash site was found and that no survivors were observed from the air.)

Fivelson and the other passenger as well as the three other crewmembers were all classified as Killed/Body Not Recovered.

Other Personnel in Incident: none

SYNOPSIS: On March 6, 1971, WO John F. Hummel, pilot, and WO William P. Milliner, co-pilot, were flying an AH-1G Cobra helicopter gunship (serial #67-15464) as the wingman in a flight of two helicopters returning from a combat support mission over Laos. While in route, the weather turned hazy. At about 2000 hours, the wingman notified his troop's forward operation at Khe Sanh, South Vietnam, that both gunships were planning to use a ground control approach (GCA). That was the last radio contact with WO Hummel's aircraft.

The lead gunship contacted the Khe Sanh GCA and was told to climb to 5000 feet and make a left 360 degree turn to a heading of 020 degrees. The wingman was still with the lead aircraft at this time, but no radio contact could be established with him.

Shortly after, the GCA control informed the lead aircraft to turn to a heading of 070 degrees at 4000 feet. After a descending turn was initiated, WO Hummel's aircraft passed over the top of the lead aircraft. This separation occurred in the clear, and then the flight leader entered the cloud layer so no further visual sighting of WO Hummel's aircraft occurred. The lead aircraft landed safely.

Search and rescue efforts were begun for Hummel and Milliner, but had negative results. Hummel and Milliner were listed Missing in Action.

Other Personnel In Incident: Phil Bodenhorn; Jerry Castillo (rescued); Sheldon J. Burnett (missing)

SYNOPSIS: Randy Ard had been in Vietnam only a few weeks when an emergency call came in for him to fly the squadron commander to a platoon command post to work his way down to his Third Platoon, which was in ambush in the northwest segment of South Vietnam. He flew his Kiowa Scout helicopter from the 5th Mech and picked up LtCol. Sheldon Burnett, the squadron commander; Capt. Phil Bodenhorn, Alpha Company commander; and Sp4 Mike Castro, Third Platoon RTO.

Ard mistakenly flew past the command post and west into Laos. Seeing yellow marking smoke, he took the chopper down lower. It was too late to pull up when they heard the sound of an RPD machine gun and AK-47's. They had been tricked into a North Vietnamese ambush.

The helicopter went down fast, and smashed into the brush, coming down on its side. Ard and Burnett were helplessly trapped in the wreckage, but alive. Ard got on the radio and began mayday calls. Bodenhorn and Castillo got out of the aircraft and soon heard North Vietnamese approaching.

Bodenhorn and Castillo killed these Vietnamese, and listened for nearly an hour as others advanced towards their position. They couldn't understand why they were not being rescued, unless it was because the enemy was so close to them.

A helicopter flew over, but took heavy fire and left. They decided to leave Ard and Burnett and escape themselves. They told Ard, who nodded wordlessly. Barnett was drifting in and out of consciousness.

The two worked their way to 80 yards away when a UH1C came in on a single run, firing flechette rockets which seemed to explode right on the downed chopper. Later, they watched an F4 roll in for a one-bomb strike over the crash site. Ard and Burnett were surely dead.

Bodenhorn and Castillo were rescued by ARVN troops an hour later. Ard and Burnett were classified Missing In Action. The story was released to reporters at Khe Sanh three days later. The army spokesman accurately described the ambush, but told the press that Burnett had been in radio contact with the ambushed platoon, and that he and Ard had appeared dead to the two escaping officers. The names of the survivors were not released.

General Sutherland stated, "...the decision was not made to employ the Air Cavalry and the Hoc Bao to attempt to retrieve either LtCol. Burnett alive or his body. ...Burnett had no mission nor units in Laos. He had no reason or authority to take his helicopter over the Laotian border."

Other Personnel in Incident: Robert E. Grantham (missing)

SYNOPSIS: On March 8, 1971, 1Lt. John D. Hale, pilot, and Cpl. Robert E. Grantham, observer, were on board an OH-6A helicopter (serial #67-16645) on an armed reconnaissance mission with an AH-1G Cobra gunship and a UH-1A helicopter as a control ship. The OH-6A aircraft was attempting to start a fire on a hilltop by dropping incendiary grenades.

When 1Lt. Hale's aircraft later made a pass over the area to see if the fire had started, it began receiving ground fire. The crew of the AH-1G gunship saw the ground fire and engaged a target while instructing Hale to break away. Lt. Hale called after he broke away, "I'm taking fire from 3 o'clock." The AH-1G gunship then broke away from the first source of gunfire to engage the second. At that time both the OH-6A and AH-1G pilots reported taking fire.

In the next radio transmission, Hale's OH-6A reported that he was hit and was going down, and asked if he was in sight. The AH-1G gunship did see him and called the UH-1H control ship to confirm the sighting, but the control ship could not spot Hale's aircraft. The gunship began dropping white phosphorous grenades to help illuminate the area of Hale's aircraft.

At the time Hale called that he was going down, his aircraft seemed to come apart and begin spinning, as if it had a tail rotor failure. Numerous objects were flying out of the aircraft while it was spinning. The spinning slowed at about 500 feet above the ground, but increased again prior to impact. The aircraft exploded upon impact with the ground.

The chase control ship went over the crash site and hovered there, looking for survivors, but due to the intense enemy fire, it had to leave the area. The control ship returned, but saw no survivors on either hover. The largest part of the aircraft that could be seen was what appeared to be the left engine door. An electronic search was unsuccessful. No ground search was possible because of the intense enemy activity.

Other Personnel in Incident: On UH-1H: Craig M. Dix; Bobby G. Harris (all missing); James H. Hestand (released POW). From AH1G: Capt. David P. Schweitzer (rescued)

SYNOPSIS: On March 17, 1971, Capt. David P. Schweitzer, pilot and 1Lt. Lawrence E. Lilly, co-pilot, comprised the crew of an AH-1G helicopter (serial #69-17935) conducting a visual reconnaissance mission. As the aircraft was near a landing zone at grid coordinates XU488458, it was hit by enemy fire of the F-21B Infantry Regiment, 5th Viet Cong Division and forced to the ground. The LZ was deep inside Cambodia in the Snuol District of Kracheh (Kratie) Province, near Seang Village.

Rescue efforts were successful in extracting Capt. Schweitzer, but due to heavy enemy fire, they were forced to leave the area before Lilly could be extracted. Lt. Lilly was last seen by U.S. personnel lying on his back with his shirt partially open and blood on his chest and neck. He was observed being fired upon by Viet Cong forces.

In mid-April 1971, a report described two U.S. personnel onboard a helicopter shot down in this region getting out of the helicopter and climbing a tree, and firing upon enemy forces. One of the crewmen was shot to death, and the other was captured by Viet Cong soldiers of the 6th Company, 2nd Battalion, F21B Infantry Regiment. The report continued that both crewmen were caucasian and had light complexions. The source described the POW and said that he was later told that the dead airman had been cremated by Cambodian villagers who had come to salvage parts from the aircraft. Joint Casualty Resolution Center (JCRC) evaluated the report and concluded that it could possibly relate either to Lilly's incident or another the same day at the same location.

The other incident related to a UH-1H helicopter flown by WO1 James H. Hestand and carrying CW2 Richard L. Bauman; SP4 Craig M. Dix; and SP4 Bobby G. Harris. The aircraft was shot down near Snuol. A medivac chopper lowered a jungle penetrator to men seen on the ground through triple canopy jungle, but was forced to leave the area due to enemy fire and low fuel.

Five ARVN were captured in the same operation and were told by Viet Cong guards that three chopper crew members had just been captured. One was killed in the crash, one was shot in the leg (ankle) trying to escape. The wounded crewmember and two others were finally captured.

James Hestand was captured and was released in 1973. In his debriefing, he reported that Craig Dix was the one who had been shot in the upper right ankle. Hestand stated that Dix was ambulatory and evading capture at the time of his own capture. Hestand also stated that, when last seen, CW2 Bauman was alive, in good condition, and was hiding with Dix. Hestand said that he had seen the body of Harris, whom he believed to be dead because of throat lacerations and a discoloration of his body. Harris had been thrown from the aircraft. Hestand was separated from the others when he was captured, and had no further information on Dix, Bauman or Harris. Defense Department notes indicate that Harris was killed in the crash. Defense Department notes indicate that some intelligence say that Bauman, Dix and Harris are dead, yet other intelligence reports placed Dix in a Cambodian hospital after having been captured, and according to Hestand, the two were alive and well the last time he saw them.

An ARVN ground unit entered the battle area to try to rescue Lilly, but found him dead. The unit came under heavy fire, and in the course of the battle, the body was lost to the enemy. Lilly's remains were never recovered.

In 1988, the Cambodian government announced that it had the remains of a number of American servicemen it wished to return to the United States. The U.S. did not respond officially, however, because there are no diplomatic ties between Cambodia and the U.S. Several U.S. Congressmen have attempted to intervene and recover the remains on behalf of American family members, but Cambodia wishes an official overture.

Both pilots were declared dead by the Department of Defense on 7 May 1971. Their remains were returned to the United States for proper burial in July 1990.

SYNOPSIS: Lam San 719 was the last major operation of the Vietnam War. It involved American multi-service support of ARVN troops in an invasion of Laos. The targeted area began around the city of Tchpone and extended south along the Ho Chi Minh Trail. The operation was a concentrated attempt to halt North Vietnamese troop and supply movements.

After the ARVN successfully took Tchpone, they elected to withdraw. American Marines and Army aircraft helped them withdraw back into Vietnam. All the while, NVA troops followed, and withdrawal, at times, was very difficult.

As the last of the ARVN 4/1 were being assisted back to Vietnam, and had been trapped in a crater, Capt. Keith Brandt came on station leading a flight of Cobra gunships in response to Command & Control request for assistance to all helicopters. The ARVN on the ground radioed Brandt, "We're completely surrounded", and asked him to expend his ordnance on his smoke (a detonated smoke grenade, used to mark location).

For the rest of the afternoon, Brandt and his crewmember, Alan Boffman stayed over the ARVN, returning to Khe Sahn for refueling and rearming three times. He expended ordnance as directed by the ARVN sergeant on radio and dodged NVA fire on low-level flights to pinpoint the exact ARVN location and calculate the best approach route for rescue helicopters.

At nearly five in the afternoon, the 173rd Robinhoods began coming in from the east to extract the besieged ARVN. Brandt was still circling, and volunteered to lead the helicopters in, as the ARVN had expended their last smoke grenade some hours earlier. He radioed, "This is Music One-six. Follow me, Robinhood Three, and I'll lead you to the friendlies." As they moved in, NVA fire exploded around them. Brandt's Cobra shuddered and he radioed, "I've lost my engine and my transmission is breaking up. Good-bye. Send my love to my family. I'm dead." Then, the Cobra became a ball of fire and crashed in the trees.

With knots in their throats, the extraction helicopters continued their mission. Of the original 420 ARVN who entered Laos, only 88 were left. They had fought hard for 6 weeks. The helicopters were clearly overloaded, and some had great difficulty staying airborne on the trip back to Khe Sanh. ARVN were hanging from the skids of the aircraft in a desperate attempt to reach the safety of Vietnam. Many fell, some were injured on landing. Of the 88 at the crater, only 36 made it back to the safety of Khe Sanh. @MINOR

SYNOPSIS: Lam Son 719 was a large-scale offensive against enemy communications lines which was conducted in that part of Laos adjacent to the two northern provinces of South Vietnam. The South Vietnamese would provide and command ground forces, while U.S. forces would furnish airlift and supporting fire.

Phase I, renamed Operation Dewey Canyon II, involved an armored attack by the U.S. from Vandegrift base camp toward Khe Sanh, while the ARVN moved into position for the attack across the Laotian border. Phase II began with an ARVN helicopter assault and armored brigade thrust along Route 9 into Laos. ARVN ground troops were transported by American helicopters, while U.S. Air Force provided cover strikes around the landing zones.

During one of these maneuvers, Fred Cristman was flying a UH-1C helicopter with a crew of three - Paul Lagenour, Jon Sparks, and Ricardo Garcia - covering a downed U.S. helicopter during a rescue effort. The LZ was under fire, and the pilot of the downed craft was a buddy of Fred's. He worked the area with his minigun while another helicopter successfully extracted the pilot.

Cristman and his crew continued to work the hot LZ while other helicopters came in. His gunship was hit, crashed into the ARVN perimeter, and was hit on the roof by a mortar round just as the crew jumped out. Cristman, his copilot and the crew chief were thrown to the ground, while the door gunner, Sp4 Lagenour, reached safety. The others remained with the chopper.

Proof of the deaths of Cristman, Sparks and Garcia was never found. No remains came home; none was released from prison camp. They were not blown up, nor did they sink to the bottom of the ocean.

Other Personnel In Incident: Walter R. Hall; Donald P. Knutsen; (all missing)

SYNOPSIS: The families of the men aboard the UH-1H aircraft lost on March 22, 1971 were given the following account: On March 22, 1971, W1 Reginald Cleve, aircraft commander; W1 John G. Traver, pilot; SP4 Donald P. Knutsen, crew chief; and Walter R. Hall, door gunner, comprised the crew of a UH-1H helicopter in a flight of five helicopters conducting an emergency resupply mission when the helicopter burst into flames and crashed.

The aircraft was flying at an altitude of about 5000 feet above sea level in Savannakhet Province, Laos, when it was fired upon by a hostile ground force and an explosion occurred in the cargo compartment. The helicopter impacted essentially in one piece and again exploded and continued to burn. No one was observed to exit the aircraft, and it was the opinion of the investigating committee that no one could have survived. No rescue attempts were made due to the heavy concentration of enemy troops and the aircraft fire in the area.

A family member of one of the crew states, "one reason for our feeling that he may still be alive is that his craft was hit, and he radioed to the leader of the mission that he would be forced to land. The remainder of the aircraft went on to deliver their cargoes, and as they returned to their base, they reportedly passed over this site. They saw (the downed helicopter) on the ground, but there was NOT any fire, nor did they see any of the men around it."

SYNOPSIS: On June 1, 1971, 1Lt. Paul Magers, pilot and CW2 Donald L. Wann, aircraft commander, were aboard an AH-1G Cobra gunship (serial #68-15002) on a mission in northwest Quang Tri Province, South Vietnam, about 5 miles south of the demilitarized zone (DMZ). Another helicopter had just successfully extracted a Ranger team from a landing zone, and Magers' gunship was to destroy some ammunition that had been in the area.

CW2 Wann started his rocket pass at about 1500 feet above the ground, and at about 40 feet, before commencing fire, the aircraft was hit by anti-aircraft fire. Witnesses saw a tracer round hit the underside and the tail section of the helicopter and saw fire from escaping fuel. The aircraft nosed up, gaining from 100-150 feet in altitude, then lost air speed. The aircraft appeared to shudder as it started a vertical right descending turn in flames.

As the aircraft fell in a spiral pattern, 6 calls were made by CW2 Wann on both FM and UHF radio. None of the calls was answered. The aircraft crashed and slid down a steep hill some 100 feet. All witnesses stated that the crash was non-survivable. According to witnesses, Magers and Wann are almost certainly dead. Magers and Wann were declared dead, body not recovered. They are listed with honor among the missing because their bodies have not been returned to their homelands for burial.

The following was collected at the VHPA Reunion in July 1992:

Hit by 51 cal fire making a practice run for Magers to fire weapons. The 51 cal position opened up. CCN team had just been extracted. Up to that point there had been no enemy fire. Magers was on his 1st or 2nd mission after arriving in country.

After Action Report for: 22 October 1971 GARRETT, MAURICE EDWIN, JR.

REFNO: R1774
Name: Maurice Edwin Garrett, Jr.
Rank/Branch: 03/US Army

Status (in 1973): Killed/Body Not Recovered
Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: AH-1G

Other Personnel in Incident: none

SYNOPSIS: On October 22, 1971, Capt. Maurice E. Garrett, Jr., pilot and 1Lt. Danny A. Cowan, co-pilot/gunner, were aboard an AH1G helicopter (serial #67-15752) as part of a "Hunter-Killer" team consisting of two AH-1G helicopters, one OH-6A and one UH-1H.

The team departed Quang Tri and proceeded west on an armed visual reconnaissance mission. Capt. Garrett instructed the flight to hold on the eastern side of a ridge line while he continued westward into a valley to check weather that appeared marginal for team operations.

About one minute after entering the valley, Garrett reported the weather to be about 200 feet overcast, and continued his weather assessment flight. About 5 minutes from the time he was last seen, Garrett reported that he was in the cloud and would return to Quang Tri on instruments. He gave instructions for the rest of the flight to stay clear of his intended flight path.

Shortly afterwards, the aircraft apparently struck trees and continued for a short distance before crashing. The aircraft impacted and exploded with such force that the only large identifiable aircraft part that was found was a vertical fin with part of the serial number. Some parts of the cockpit section could be identified, but all were badly burned, smashed and scattered by the explosion.

1Lt. Cowan's remains were found after a ground search was conducted of the area. As no trace of Capt. Garrett was found, it was determined that he was killed in the crash, and his body completely destroyed upon impact and explosion.

There is little hope that Garret could have survived.

planned to join the other advisors when it was safe to do so. Radio contact was maintained with Yonan until 0730 hours. The other U.S. advisors began escape and evasion operations from the beleaguered compound.

Team 22 Advisors Maj. George W. Carter, Maj. Julius G. Warmath, and Capt. John P. Keller, were extracted by helicopter. The aircraft was a UH-1H from the 52nd Aviation Battalion, 17th Aviation Group, (serial #69-15715) and was flown by Lt. James E. Hunsicker. WO Wade L. Ellen was the co-pilot of the chopper, and SP4 Charles M. Lea, and SP5 Ricky B. Bogle were crewmen. Other persons extracted included 1Lt. Johnny M. Jones, from the 52nd Aviation Battalion; SP4 Franklin Zollicoffer, from the U.S. Army Installation at Pleiku, and Sgt. Walter H. Ward, unit not specified.

Other Personnel in Incident: Robert W. Brownlee; George W. Carter; James E. Hunsicker; Johnny M. Jones; Kenneth J. Yonan; Franklin Zollicoffer (all missing); Charles M. Lea; Ricky B. Bogle (helicopter crew, rescued); Julius G. Warmath; John P. Keller; Walter H. Ward (helicopter passengers, rescued); Charles W. Gordon; Cao Ky Chi (evaded capture near Dak To)

SYNOPSIS: On the evening of April 23, 1972, Capt. Kenneth J. Yonan accompanied his ARVN counterpart to a water tower located on the northwestern edge of the Tanh Canh base camp compound near Dak To, Kontum Province, South Vietnam. Yonan was an advisor assigned to Advisory Team 22, MACV, and was assisting the ARVN 42nd Regiment based there.

At about 0530 hours on April 24, Capt. Yonan was still in the water tower when Viet Cong attacked the camp perimeter. Although tanks fired at and hit the water tower, two other advisors spoke to Capt. Yonan after the firing and Yonan reported that he was not hit and

The helicopter departed to the northwest from Dak To, but was apparently hit by enemy fire, as it crashed and burned on a small island in the Dak Poko River about 500 meters from the end of the dock to the runway. Because of the rolling terrain, personnel at the airfield did not see the aircraft impact. A pilot flying over the wreckage reported that the helicopter was burning, but they could see no survivors. It was later discovered that five people did survive the crash - Warmath, Keller, Bogle, Ward and Lea. According to their statements, Hunsicker, Ellen, Zollicoffer, Jones and Carter were all dead.

Two other Team 22, MACV Advisors, LtCol. Robert W. Brownlee and Capt. Charles W. Gordon, and their ARVN interpreter, Sgt. Cao Ky Chi, were in a bunker near the airstrip approximately 4 kilometers to the west of the base camp when they were forced to withdraw under heavy enemy attack. They proceeded south of the compound across the Dak Poko River, but LtCol. Brownlee became separated from the others as they were advancing up a hill. Sgt. Chi and Capt. Gordon called out to him, but received no response. From the top of the hill, Sgt. Chi heard the enemy call out to someone in Vietnamese to halt and raise their hands. Sgt. Chi believed the Viet Cong were speaking to LtCol. Brownlee. Gordon and Chi evaded capture and eventually made their way to safety.

A Vietnamese who was captured and subsequently released reported that he had talked to another prisoner who had witnessed LtCol. Brownlee's death. He was told that LtCol. Brownlee had killed himself with his own pistol when communist soldiers told him to raise his hands in an attempt to capture him. Additional hearsay reports of his suicide were reported by another ARVN source.

Yonan never caught up with the others. For three days, helicopter searches were made of the area with no success. Ground search, because of the hostile threat in the area, was not practical.

In April 1988, the Vietnamese "discovered" the remains of Capt. Kenneth J. Yonan and returned them to the U.S. in a spirit of stepped-up cooperation on the POW/MIA issue.

Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: AH-1G

Other Personnel in Incident: (none)

SYNOPSIS: On May 24, 1972, WO2 Isaac Y. Hosaka, pilot, and WO2 John R. Henn, aircraft commander, were flying an AH1G Cobra helicopter (tail #67-15836) which was participating in a medivac operation about 8 kilometers south of An Loc, South Vietnam. WO2 Henn's helicopter was in a flight of three Cobras at 4800 feet when the helicopter appeared to break in half.

The aircraft then went into a flat spin, exploded and burst into flames upon impact. The other helicopter pilots concluded that the Cobra had been hit by a SAM (surface to air missile), as they had seen a trail of white smoke from the ground to the aircraft.

The other two Cobras remained over the site, but observed no one leaving the crash. An immediate search in the area was not possible because of the enemy situation, but on June 2 and June 5, brief surface searches were conducted and remains were found which were identified as those of WO2 Hosaka.

A refugee reported that he had witnessed a Cobra helicopter crash and burn near Tan Khai village. Fifteen days later, he saw the bodies of two individuals who had apparently died in the crash. The U.S. Army believes this report may correlate to Henn and Hosaka.

Aircraft/Vehicle/Ground: OH-6A

Other Personnel in Incident: Wayne Bibbs; Robin R. Yeakley (missing from one OH-6A); James E. Hackett; Richard D. Wiley (missing from second OH-6A).

SYNOPSIS: By December 1971, U.S. troops in-country had declined dramatically - from the 1968 peak of nearly 55,000 to less than 30,000. The enemy, temporarily on the defensive by the moves into Cambodia in 1970 and Laos in 1971, began deploying new NVA forces southward in preparation for another major offensive.

In March 1972, the Vietnamese launched a three-pronged invasion of the South. One NVA force swept south across the DMZ, its goal apparently the conquest of the northern provinces and the seizure of Hue. A second NVA force drove from Laos into the Central Highlands, and a third effort involved a drive from Cambodia into provinces northwest of Saigon.

Fierce fighting ensued on all three fronts, with NVA success the greatest in the northern provinces. Fighting continued until by June, the North Vietnamese began withdrawing from some of their advance positions, still holding considerable amounts of South Vietnamese territory in the northern provinces.

On June 11, 1972, Capt. Arnold Holm, pilot, PFC Wayne Bibbs, gunner, and SP4 Robin Yeakley, passenger, were aboard an OH-6A observation helicopter flying from Camp Eagle to the Northern Provinces of South Vietnam on a visual reconnaissance mission. The function of their "Loach" chopper was searching out signs of the enemy around two landing zones (LZ's). The OH-6A joined with the AH-1G Cobra gunship as "Pink Teams" to screen the deployment of air cavalry troops. On this day, Holm's aircraft was monitoring an ARVN team insertion.

During the mission, Holm reported that he saw enemy living quarters, bunkers, and numerous trails. On his second pass over a ridge, at about 25' altitude, the aircraft exploded and burned. It was reported that before the aircraft crashed that smoke and white phosphorous grenades began exploding. After the aircraft impacted with the ground, it exploded again. Other aircraft in the area received heavy anti-aircraft fire. No one was seen to exit the downed helicopter, nor were emergency radio beepers detected.

In another OH-6A (tail #67-16275), 1Lt. James R. McQuade, pilot, and SP4 James E. Hackett, gunner, tried to enter the area of the crashed OH-6A, but encountered heavy fire and their aircraft was also shot down. McQuade's aircraft was hit, and the intensity of the resulting fire caused white phosphorous and smoke grenades carried aboard the aircraft to explode prior to hitting the ground. The aircraft continued to burn after impact and no crewmen left the ship before or after the crash. No ground search was made for survivors or remains of either aircraft because of hostile fire in the area.

Other Personnel in Incident: Elbert W. Bush; William L. Deane; Manuel A. Lauterio; William S. Stinson (all missing)

Deane was declared dead by the Department of Defense 30 April 1979. Deane may not have been a helicopter pilot (need confirmation).

Knutson was declared dead by the Department of Defense 3 May 1979.

Wilson was declared dead by the Department of Defense 5 October 1978.

SYNOPSIS: WO1 Richard Knutson, pilot; WO1 Mickey A. Wilson, aircraft commander; SP5 William S. Stinson, gunner; SP5 Manuel A. Lauterio, crew chief; and SSgt. Elbert W. Bush and Maj. William L. Dean, both passengers; were aboard a UH-1H helicopter (serial #69-15619) that flew in support of the American Senior Advisor to the Vietnamese Airborne Division in Quang Tri and Thua Thien Provinces, working between the provincial capitals of Hue and Quang Tri.

On January 8, 1973, at about 1430 hours, the aircraft had departed a landing zone en route to other LZs without making radio contact with the 2nd Battalion Technical Operations Center. When no radio contact was received by 1500 hours, the other LZs were queried. The helicopter did not go to either of the two designated LZs, nor had any communication been established with them.

The helicopter's intended route would have taken it northwest toward Quang Tri, with a left turn to an LZ south of the Thach Han River. Although the helicopter failed to contact either LZ along the route, it was later seen flying northwest toward Quang Tri City and crossing the Thach Han River into enemy held territory. While in this area, the helicopter was seen to circle with door guns firing. Enemy automatic weapons fire was heard, and a direct hit was made on the tail boom by a missile, reportedly an SA7.

Aerial searches of the suspected crash site on January 8 and 9 failed to locate either the wreckage or the crew. The aircraft was shot down less than three weeks before American involvement in the war came to an official end.

Intelligence reports indicated that of the six men aboard, four were seen alive on the ground. The families of the men assumed that their loved ones would be released with the other POWs. Some were even so informed.

1992 DIRECTORY INDEX

During this past year, several VHPA Members requested that a roster of members ordered by flight class number be included in the Directory. After doing some research, the Directory Committee determined that such an index could be built for the Army pilots but would not be appropriate for the USAF, USN, USMC, etc. pilots. Therefore, the Army trained VHPA members have an index ordered by flight class number and then alphabetical by last name. IF YOU ARE AN ARMY TRAINED PILOT and IF YOUR VHPA RECORD DOES NOT CONTAIN A VALID FLIGHT CLASS CODE, YOU WILL NOT APPEAR IN THIS INDEX. All other VHPA members have an index ordered by branch of service and then alphabetical by last name. This index was built by extracting information from the VHPA Membership data base for all living Vietnam Era pilots, the VHPA KIA/MIA data base for the pilots that died in Southeast Asia during the war, and the VHPA DAT/DDT data base for all the pilots that died training to go to Southeast Asia or died after their service in Southeast Asia. Please direct your comments, corrections, and/or suggestions concerning this Index to the VHPA Headquarters or directly to Mike Law for living pilots and to Gary Roush for deceased pilots. The following status codes are used in the Index:

DAT - Died After Tour
DDT - Died During Training

FRD - Potential VHPA Member
KIA - Killed In Action
LIF - Life Member of the VHPA

MIA - Missing In Action
REG - General Member of the VHPA
