

Dear Sir;

The Warlord enclosed is not the same as was displayed on the nose of B/123rd Helicopters. They were much ~~more~~ more professional. The Pelican Patch I have was blue background and the Pelican done in white and yellow.

P.S. Stanley Reed had his Saw shot off Dec 31, 1968. A daring rescue was made on the ground to get a clearing. The helicopter may have been recovered from the crash, but I would be interested in the after action Report. Stanley claims to have ~~been the longest~~ had the longest stay in Walter Reed hospital to the date he was there. (2 1/2 years) They re built his Saw from his hip.
