The Veterans History Project at the American Folklife Center in the Library of Congress was created on October 27, 2000, by a unanimous vote of Congress and seeks to collect and preserve recorded memories of America's wartime veterans. The project and its many Official Partners across the country collect audio and video recorded interviews, as well as letters, diaries, photographs, and other personal documents, from those who served in World War I, World War II, and the Korean, Vietnam and Persian Gulf wars. Eligible are all participants in those wars, and we seek to document the contribution of civilian volunteers, support staff, and war industry workers, as well as the experiences of military personnel from all ranks and all branches of service. Join us in making the Veterans History Project a success! For information regarding the project or to request a project kit, please call our message line at 1-888-371-5848.
