TO MY SON MIKE, HO WOULD HAVE BEEN 48 YEARS OLD TODAY.....

Its been 28 years as of today that my first Son Mike..."went away ".

This is the day that he was born,

A wonderful loving child...but now I mourn.

I know I shouldn't...but I must let his memory go.

He did what was needed on this Earth and so...

The Good Lord needs him for much better things, but I miss him so much...and yet my heart sings.

Cause I know he's busy, helping from above...

Filling me with forgiveness and lots of love.

I'm proud to have been chosen to be his Mother.

His time on Earth was short for me but I'm blessed as I still have his brother!

So Happy Birthday, Mike, I just want you to know...

You're still in my heart and I do love you so!!!!
