I'm grateful for your phone call earlier today. It's hard to believe it has been 21 years since we first met. Although it has been several years since I've visited with you and the family, your friendship has had a long term very positive impact on my life. Your generous gifts of time and encouragement raised my self esteem tremendously. It helped me to appreciate the Biblical concept of unmerited favor in the sense that I realize how undeserving I was of the times you permitted me to visit and to share in family times.

Please let me know if you are coming anywhere near London. Lord willing, I'll get to catch up in person with you, Mrs. Zumwalt and Jimmy.

God Bless,
