PROCLAMATION

The Navy Family Ombudsman Program celebrates its silver anniversary on September 14, 1995. It is an occasion for celebration and for reflection on the many accomplishments of ombudsmen across the Navy.

The Navy Family Ombudsman Program is successful because of Navy family members who enthusiastically donate time and energy, demonstrating daily that they care about people. Ombudsmen are highly trained volunteers, who use their skills and talents to help meet the needs of Navy families and their commands.

In recognition of the many contributions ombudsmen have made over the past 25 years, and of their continuing commitment as integral members of the CO's family support team, I am proclaiming this year — from September 14, 1995 to September 14, 1996 — as the Year of the Navy Family Ombudsman.

I encourage all Navy commands and personnel to share in this celebration. The Year of the Navy Family Ombudsman gives us a unique opportunity to recognize the accomplishments of our ombudsmen and continue our support of their outstanding efforts. Please pass my personal thanks to all Navy Ombudsmen for their hard work, dedication, and sacrifices and my congratulations on their many successes.

J.M. BOORDA
Admiral, U.S. Navy
