Dear Dick,

I regret that my lecture schedule has me out of the area on 4 September when your swearing-in ceremonies will occur. Otherwise, I would have enjoyed the opportunity to personally express my congratulations on your important new post.

Please accept my cordial best wishes for continued success and contribution to our country. I look forward to learning of your endeavors and to seeing you again in the not too distant future.

Warm regards,

E. R. ZUMWALT, JR.

The Honorable
Richard Sneider
Ambassador Designate to Korea
EA, Room 6208

Dear Bud:

I am sorry that we never did get a chance to get together before I left for Seoul. I had made some feeble moves to work out a luncheon date, but you were off on one of your lecture tours.

Thanks very much for your note of congratulations, and I hope that, with all your "leisure" time, you might just wend your way out here. It is an interesting spot, and we could always use some of your expert advice.

All the very best wishes for your future.

Sincerely,
