Dear Admiral Zumwalt:

The session we had with you, General DePuy and General Vogt was outstanding. It was interesting, and your insights were extremely useful.

As I mentioned to you in my first letter, most of our students carry very strong emotions about the war. Being able to listen to and discuss the war with some of those who were commanders at the time is important to them. They certainly appreciated your presence.

Thank you for being with us and for your continued support of our work at The National War College.

Very respectfully,

Perry N. Smith
Major General, USAF
Commandant

P.S. Your closing remarks were superb. My two week trip through Eastern Europe this spring reinforced my view that socialism along the Soviet model is not working.
