Sir,

It is a pleasure for me to write a letter of reference for Theodore Acheson. I am his First Sergeant and senior enlisted supervisor. I have observed his actions on a day to day basis for two years. I believe I am qualified to discuss the abilities and ambitions of this outstanding young man.

I consider Ted Acheson an unusually talented man with an inquiring mind and an abundance of new and intriguing ideas. His method of approach to an assignment is not always conventional, but the results are always stimulating and interesting. Ted continually endeavors to improve his work. His technical abilities and personal habits have gained for him admiration from his subordinates and respect from those appointed to supervise him. I believe he has unlimited potential in the motion picture medium.

Teds ability to adapt to the many changing situations that have been thrust upon him in the last two years has been truly amazing. He has served his country in an exemplary manner and demonstrated a high sense of responsibility to himself and his profession.

Ted has a burning desire to continue his education. This unit and I will miss him very much, but I feel he is destined for much greater things. I do not hesitate to recommend him as an excellent addition to any student body.
