(3) PW from 808th Bn, 7th Front, during interrogation by CO of D 2/17, revealed locations of rice caches via XD153282 and YD200300. The cache at XD153282 consists of 10 huts 6x10' containing 10,000 to 20,000 lbs of rice from which 3 battalions draw rice. The huts are 50 meters apart and guarded by 6 NVA w/AK-47's who live in 2 bunkers facing ESE towards the Khe Tion river ("A CHO" to the NVA). The cache was developed 5-6 months ago and is not believed to be BBT'd. A trail runs to the cache from W-E and enters the cache site from the N. A second cache is located via YD200300 and consists of 3 6x10x4' huts and is guarded by 3 NVA w/AK-47's. The cache contains approx 3,000 lbs of rice. Other information obtained from the PW reveals that the Da Krong river is known as the Song Ta Rut and that hill 848 via YD197304 is known as Doc Mieu. This PW has travelled to the suspected rice cache in the A Gioi area from the 808th's location at Co. Ba Sai along a trail wide enough for only 1 man oriented E-W. The rice bearers are not permitted in the cache site, but the rice is packed in rucksacks waiting on the trail for the rice bearers when they arrive.
