

GIs Answer the Call to Lo

There are many lonely jobs in the military, and one of the loneliest might be that of an Army radio man atop a 3,000-foot mountain near the Cambodian border in Vietnam. Some 150 men are serving at the isolated outpost 60 miles northwest of Saigon. Above, a supply heli-

BRISTLING WITH RADIO ANTENNAS, MOUNTAIN BASE PROVIDES A VITAL COMMUNICATIONS CENTER FOR ARMY TROOPS IN AREA.

RADIO OP

Corey Duty

sets down to eat his rations. (U.S. Army Photos Special to S&S)

A SHRINE SITS ATOP THE BLACK VIRGIN MOUNTAIN, KNOWN TO VIETNAMESE AS NUI BA DEN.

TO OPERATOR MANS TRANSMITTER ON THE MOUNTAIN.

SOLDIER PHONES A REPORT TO A FORWARD OPERATIONS BASE.