From the hushed, tense voices of outgoing patrols to the shattering explosions of incoming mortars, from the tender music of the countryside to the shriek of an air strike 100 meters away, here is Vietnam as lived by the American Fighting Man. The sounds and voices of the country, the people, the war, all recorded on-the-spot. A complete documentary album package (LP record, full color folding album, 16 pages of text and photographs, 21" x 29" color map of Vietnam and Southeast Asia) designed especially for the serviceman to share with family and friends at home. In its realism and understanding, a lasting tribute to the individual American Fighting Man it portrays.

Built to Last

We don't know who she is, but our lovely of today appears to be quite structurally sound.

You can see more of her, we think, in Paramount's "Little Fools and Big Nasty."
